Administration Prods For More African Housing

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration assembled Washington real estate men Thursday and warned that racial barriers around luxury apartments here may cost this country the U. N. votes of emerging African nations.

After the closed meeting, officials claimed progress toward solving a delicate international problem: how to find suitable housing for the growing African diplomatic corps in Washington.

Several real estate men operating apartments in the area west of 16th Street offered at the session to make housing available to African diplomats, officials said. A committee of real estate men was set up to tackle the problem.

"I'm not going to say the solution will be complete in a few months, but constructive progress was made," said Angier Biddle Duke, of the State Department's chief of protocol.

Morris Cafritz, big real estate man and husband of the famous hostess, Gwen Cafritz, emerged from the meeting declaring: "Personally, I'm willing to build a building of any size, without profit, to help solve this problem. We are spending billions for foreign aid, yet this situation gives us a black eye."

As for his existing apartment buildings, he said most of them contain mostly efficiency apartments, unsuitable for diplomats with children, but he pledged co-operation.

The problem concerns mostly younger diplomats, because ambassadors usually live in embassies.

President Kennedy sent word to the conference that he is intensely interested in solving the housing problem.

ROK Threat Charged By Khrushchev

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev announced Thursday the Soviet Union has signed a mutual defense treaty with Communist North Korea, and pictured it as necessary because of Western resistance to easing world tensions.

Khrushchev, in a long speech, said the treaty was aimed at countering a growing threat of aggression from South Korea but he also pictured the East-West quarrel over the future of West Berlin as a factor.

(Official Washington, reported surprised by the announcement of the pact, studied it for the possibility that it reflected a deepening rift between Moscow and Red China, and also for indications of a possible bearing on Khrushchev's maneuvers regarding Berlin.)

The treaty, Khrushchev said, provides for mutual aid in the event of an armed attack on either the Soviet Union or North Korea. He said the recent coup in South Korea establishing a "regime of open military-Fascist dictatorship" poses a threat and he considered it his duty to "warn the aggressive forces that if an attack is made on the Korean Democratic Republic, then the Soviet Union will look upon this attack as an attack upon itself."

"We, of course, are not in favor of military agreements," Khrushchev said in his speech to a Soviet-North Korean friendship meeting in Moscow, "but we had to sign this treaty of a defensive nature because the governments of the United States, Japan and other powers have turned down all our proposals toward the relaxation of tensions and insuring security in the area of the Far East."

Berlin Mentioned
Khrushchev also brought up Berlin in this connection. He said the Communist nations want peace.

"But it must not be overlooked that the ruling circles of the Western powers do not want a relaxation of international tension and seek to delay the solution of pressing international problems. This applies above all to the problems left unsettled from the last war. Especially alarming is the fact that there still is no German peace treaty," he added.

Khrushchev then said the Soviet stand on the German question remains unchanged. He has said Moscow will sign a separate peace treaty with Communist East Germany and thus "normalize" West Berlin, an isolated enclave 110 miles inside Communist territory. The West contends it will not surrender its rights of access to West Berlin.

New Haven Railroad Denied Federal Loan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The bankruptcy-threatened New Haven Railroad was denied a $5.5 million federal loan Thursday and promptly informed the White House it would ask to go into trusteeship.

The White House announced a finding by director Frank B. Ellis of the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization that he was "unable to certify the loan as essential" under the Defense Production Act.

Young Mother Rescues Caroline At Swim Pool

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lively Caroline Kennedy got in water over her head at a children's swimming party and was pulled out by a young mother who jumped into the pool fully clothed.

The 3-year-old daughter of President and Mrs. Kennedy suffered no ill effects, and seemed surprised about it all, according to one report.

Her rescuer came out all right, too. She is Mrs. William Saltonstall, who is expecting her third child in the early fall. She is the daughter-in-law of Sen. Everett Saltonstall, R-Mass.

The incident happened in about 4 or 4½ feet of water in a pool at a private home exactly a week ago.

The White House Thursday confirmed it after a story about it by society columnist Betty Beale

Auto Workers Challenge AMC To Set Pattern

DETROIT (AP) —The United Auto Workers Union Thursday challenged American Motors Corp. to take the lead from the Big Three in setting a pattern for a new labor contract settlement in the auto industry.

The nation's fourth largest auto firm indicated it might do just that. It presented UAW President Walter P. Reuther what it called a "fresh, new approach" to collective bargaining.

AMC Vice President Edward L. Cushman said one of the company's objectives was to share its success equitably with consumers, employees and stockholders. But he told newsmen this did not mean a specific profit-sharing offer although the company was not opposed to the philosophy of sharing profits with workers.

Cushman said AMC's new approach includes three basic points:

1. Continuing recognition beyond the life of individual contracts with specific provisions of the new contract subject to change as changing conditions require.

2. A continuing American Motors-UAW conference to discuss—away from the bargaining table—common problems, philosophies, needs and common responsibilities to the community. This would be on a company-union basis rather than industrywide as suggested last year by Reuther. Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower suggested in a speech here last fall that management and labor get together to discuss mutual problems.

3. Career employment planning. This would train employees for promotion or new assignments help them in adjusting to changes resulting from displacement of men by machines in factories.

Banker Fined $5 For Shoplifting

BALTIMORE (AP) — Theodore H. Miller, 42-year-old investment banker, was fined $5 Thursday for shoplifting a container of nasal spray.

Thomas Katz, manager of the drug store, testified Miller took the $19 item from a counter, concealed it in a newspaper and left the store.

Hoffa Serves "Ultimatum" On AFL-CIO

Must Lift Teamster Ban Or He'll Start Rival Federation

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Teamsters boss James R. Hoffa, tiring of his exile from the rest of organized labor, said Thursday he'll get back in or start his own union federation to rival the AFL-CIO.

Calling AFL-CIO President George Meany "a dopey, thick-headed Irishman," Hoffa said only Meany is blocking cancellation of the three-year-old AFL-CIO expulsion of the Teamsters on corruption charges. Even his Detroit union rival, Walter Reuther, wants to let the Teamsters back in, Hoffa claimed.

"Eighteen months isn't too far away for a federation involving the Teamsters either in the AFL-CIO or a separate federation," Hoffa said, adding either he'll get an invitation soon, or get some AFL-CIO unions to join him in "a splinter federation."

Meany Declines Comment

Hoffa said if all the unions once got together they could do more effective organizing and political work particularly in the South. But he said the Teamsters won't accept an AFL-CIO return bid unless given wide jurisdictional latitude.

"We don't need to be nursed by Meany," he said.

AFL-CIO headquarters in Washington said Meany would have no comment on anything Hoffa does or says.

Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers Union, said in Detroit he's never proposed taking the Teamsters back but obviously would like to see "a unified labor movement" so long as all unions accepted proper moral standards.

Moreover, Reuther said, some of the top AFL-CIO leaders are "just as guilty as some of those who have been expelled."

More Rules Changes

Hoffa has paraded a series of leaders of AFL-CIO and independent unions before the noisy Teamsters convention by way of indicating he could start a rival federation if he wanted. The convention, meekly accepting every proposal, already has voted to let him start one.

Teamsters rules changes that slid smoothly through the convention with scarcely a dissenting voice included one provision that the Teamsters can pay full legal costs of any officials or employees involved in court charges determined by the union to be "unfounded or politically motivated."

Delegates also quickly okayed a new latitude in investing union funds. From now on, the locals can invest in any property, real or personal, and make loans "for such purposes, and with such security, if any, as they deem appropriate, and with such arrangements for repayment as they deem appropriate."

U.S. Reaffirms Chiang Support

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department Thursday affirmed anew its support of Nationalist China in the United Nations and opposition to the seating of Communist China in that body.

The statement of position was given by press officer Lincoln White during a news conference in which reporters sought clarification of reports that the United States is considering a two-China solution as one of the possibilities of U. N. General Assembly action next fall.

White said that the United States would be derelict in its duty "if we did not prepare in advance" for the possibility that the membership of Communist China will be proposed at the fall session.

But he drew a clear distinction between preparing to meet a parliamentary situation at the United Nations and any advocacy by the United States of the seating of Red China itself.

Six British Warships Steam Through Suez

KUWAIT (UPI) — Six British warships, headed by the 27,000-ton carrier Centaur, steamed uneventfully through the Suez Canal Thursday en route here to bolster British and Kuwaiti forces digging in against the threat of invasion from Iraq.

Federal Rights Suits Are Filed In Mississippi

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The federal government hit Mississippi Thursday with two suits charging discrimination against eligible Negro voters in two counties.

Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett promptly labeled the action as interference with local self-government.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said in Washington that Justice Department investigations showed "a clear-cut pattern of discrimination."

The suits, he said, were filed "because the situation has not been rectified nor are there assurances that it ever will be rectified by local action."

The legal maneuver contended eligible Negroes in Clarke and Forrest counties, located in south-central Mississippi, were denied voting rights.

Other voting rights investigations, the Justice Department said, are pending "in a number of additional Mississippi counties."

U. S. Dist. Judge Sidney C. Mize set a hearing on the government's petition for preliminary injunctions for Aug. 7, probably at Jackson, the state capital.

This was the first such action brought in Mississippi and came under the 1957 and 1960 civil rights acts. Similar suits have been filed in Louisiana, Alabama, Georgia and Tennessee.

"I don't understand why they want to interfere with local self-government," Barnett said. "Local self-government is the thing that made this nation great."

Barnett declined further comment and said he would refer the suits to Mississippi Atty. Gen. Joe Patterson, who would not comment on the move.

FCC Proposes AT&T Rates Be Revised

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission announced Thursday a proposal to order both upward and downward adjustments in the rates charged by American Telephone & Telegraph Co. for private line service.

At the same time, the commission tentatively rejected a petition by the American Newspaper Publishers Assn. and other press interests that the companies be required to re-establish a special reduced rate classification for press users of private lines such as was offered until 1943.

In a separate but related action, the FCC notified Western Electric Co., AT&T's wholly-owned manufacturing subsidiary, that it appears to be making too much profit on its equipment sales to the Bell Telephone System. These costs are a factor in telephone rate-making.

The commission advised Western Electric to give immediate consideration to a reduction in its Bell pricings, involving retroactive adjustments in 1960 billings to Bell companies.

Simplicity Marks Hemingway Rites

KETCHUM, Idaho (AP) — Ernest Hemingway was buried Thursday in a little country cemetery far from the violent world he explored in some of the greatest novels of his time.

The simple Catholic prayers for the dead were read by the village priest as Hemingway's fourth wife—his "Miss Mary"—and his three sons gathered around the grave.

Only members of the family and the closest friends were permitted inside the cemetery, just across the river from the secluded mountain home the author loved so well.

It was in the home that Miss Mary found Hemingway dead Sunday morning, killed by a shotgun blast in the head. Authorities said they will make no final determination of whether it was suicide or accident.

The family had requested a private, quiet service and the people in this community of 750 helped make it that.

British Ask U.N. Uphold Kuwait

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Britain asked the Security Council Thursday to accede to requests from Kuwait that the United Nations guarantee its independence and territorial integrity.

Sir Patrick Dean, the British delegate, introduced a resolution to that effect in the 11-nation council as it met for the third time since Sunday on the Kuwait question.

He acted in the council after Abdel Aziz Hussein, the Kuwaiti delegate, told newsmen that his government could not ask British troops to withdraw unless the council guarantees Kuwait's independence as a state qualified for U. N. membership.

The mildly worded resolution asked the council to take note that British forces were sent to the oil-rich desert kingdom in response to an appeal from its ruler, and that they would be withdrawn as soon as he considers that "the threat to Kuwait is removed."

MacArthur Again Drives Down Highway To Manila

MANILA (AP)—General of the Army Douglas MacArthur swept down the route of his triumphs Thursday, an old soldier cheered by hundreds of thousands of Filipinos who revere him as a liberator.

The people of central Luzon Island stood for hours in a driving monsoon rain to shout "mabuhay" (long live) as he drove down the highway to Manila, the same road his troops took 16 years ago to liberate the capital from the Japanese. This time the road signs read "MacArthur Highway."

It was the fourth day of a sentimental journey by MacArthur to this land he knows from youth. The general and his wife are staying for 10 days.

Study Will Help Pick Best Type Of Moon Rocket

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration launched a new study Thursday to help determine the best type giant rocket for getting to the moon and back by 1970.

That year is the goal set by President Kennedy for a U.S. moon trip.

The study is designed to help resolve arguments among scientists as to whether liquid fuels or solid ones—or possibly some combination—are the best to use in the lower stages of huge multistaged rockets needed for a lunar landing.

Kennedy, in a message to Congress May 25, suggested the development of alternate liquid and solid-fuel boosters of much larger size than any now being developed, until scientists are certain which is superior. He proposed that NASA develop the liquid type and that the Air Force concentrate on the solid type.

To do the study, NASA awarded a $100,000 contract to the Boeing Co., Seattle, Wash. It will investigate the development of large rockets employing different combinations of the two types of fuel. The contract was awarded by NASA's George C. Marshall Space Flight Center, Huntsville, Ala.

Two families of vehicles will be studied:

1. Those with a solid first stage and a high-energy liquid second stage.

2. Those with solid rockets for the first two stages and a liquid propellant third stage.

NASA spokesmen said this does not rule out the possibility of having rockets with five stages—but they said that scientists are agreed that in any such multistage rocket, the uppermost stages should be liquid fueled, regardless of the fuel used in the lower stages.

Neutral Zone Idea Pushed By Ulbricht

Communist Leader Promises To Oust West From Berlin

BERLIN (AP) — Walter Ulbricht, East Germany's Communist leader, asked for a peace treaty Thursday that would make all Germany neutral. He threatened to move against West Berlin whether he gets it or not.

He insisted that his intentions are peaceful, that the Communists would not use force unless attacked. But he said West Berlin must be eliminated "as a stronghold of the cold war."

"With the conclusion of a peace treaty, even if it is only with the (Communist East) German Democratic Republic, there will begin a new settlement of the West Berlin question. I want to leave no doubt about this," Ulbricht added.

Treaty Promised By Khrush

Soviet Premier Khrushchev has promised to sign a peace treaty with East Germany by the end of the year, thus giving Ulbricht greater power to close off the Western road and rail lifelines to West Berlin.

The Communists used to talk a great deal about making Germany a neutral zone in central Europe, and with Ulbricht's speech to the East German Parliament, they appear to be pressing the idea again.

Ulbricht said nothing about Soviet and Western troops now in Germany, or what should be done about them. But under traditional definitions of East-West neutrality, troops from both sides would have to withdraw. Western troops also would have to get out of West Berlin.

Adenauer Rejected Idea

"What would be so terrible," he asked, "about being militarily neutral and live for some centuries, perhaps forever, in peace and without war, like Sweden, Switzerland and now Austria?"

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer recently turned down the idea of neutrality. He said anyone who agrees with it does not understand Soviet expansionist tactics. Several years ago a number of West European governments also toyed with the idea, but it was generally conceded to offer too many military advantages to the Soviets—who would merely withdraw a few hundred miles to Poland—and it was quietly dropped.

AMA Aroused By Implication

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Medical Association vehemently rejected Thursday the implication of Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., that its evaluation of drugs is colored by revenues from advertising of drug manufacturers.

"The AMA is now and always has been a free agent," said Dr. Hugh H. Hussey of Washington, chairman of the organization's board of trustees. "Never have its scientific activities been subject in any manner whatever to commercial pressures."

Kefauver, chairman of the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee, said figures showing that more than half of the AMA's advertising revenues in 1960 came from the nation's 22 largest drug firms raised a question whether it would be a free agent in passing on the merits of drugs.

"Can you be objective when the major part of your revenue comes from the companies you are trying to regulate?" Kefauver asked. "Is it human nature?" "Yes, it is entirely proper that we are objective, and we are objective," Hussey replied.

Mother, Six Children Die In Truck Crash

GALLUP, N.M. (UPI) — A huge diesel truck loaded with 22 tons of grain sorghum slammed into a pickup truck on U.S. Highway 66 east of Gallup Thursday and killed a Navajo Indian mother and six of her children.

One witness said the pickup "looked like it was hit by a train."

The bodies of two children were found in the cab of the pickup. The mother's and those of the other children were scattered around the wreckage.

State police identified the victims as Mrs. Elsie Cecilia Smith, 35, wife of a Santa Fe railway section hand, and her children — Cecilia Ann, Richard James 3; Edward Lee, 4; Wanda Ann, 3; Loretta Ann, 2; and Virgil Lee, six months.

Marine Airman Pleads Innocent To Desertion

QUANTICO, Va. (AP) — Capt. Ernest C. Brace, 29, a decorated Marine Corps combat pilot, pleaded innocent at his court martial Thursday to a charge he deserted the service after the crash of his trainer plane.

Brace, who disappeared for about 10 days after the crash of his T-28 trainer last January 3 on Maryland's Eastern Shore, was charged with desertion and with causing an unnecessary and wasteful search. The search was still under way when he surrendered to the FBI in Baltimore.

The pilot, through his attorney Edward A. Dragon of Washington, pleaded guilty to the lesser charge of unauthorized absence. Dragon said this charge was implicit in the others.

Merged Church At Odds Over Headquarters Site

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A plan to give the East Coast a tentative nod as headquarters for the United Church of Christ was upset Thursday by a revolt from out of the West.

The general synod of the newly merged 2-million-member denomination also called, in a roundabout way, for extending U. S. recognition and U. N. membership to Red China.

Both that, and the geographical uprising, stirred fireworks on the floor.

"It's common knowledge that the population of the United States is moving West," said Dr. Robert Sheldon, of Bloomington, Ill., in helping spike a proposed directive for locating temporary executive offices in New York City.

Delegates not only refused to give even short-term approval to New York as the site, but a review committee also threw out a plan to limit the search for a permanent location to the New York-Philadelphia area.

"The population is moving away from this area so fast that pretty soon it is going to be a mere Atlantic periphery of the United States," said the Rev. Dr. Charles F. Parker, of Prescott, Ariz.

He said population projections show Phoenix, Ariz., is destined to become the country's largest population center.

The assembly left the matter wide open, and directed its headquarters committee, headed by the Rev. Ernst Press, of Burlington, Iowa, to do further studies, before a decision is made at the next synod two years hence.

Meantime, it was left up to the church's executive committee to pick temporary executive offices. This was expected to be New York City.

Extermination Plan Disowned By Eichmann

JERUSALEM (AP) — Adolf Eichmann Thursday disowned the Nazi plan to exterminate Europe's Jews, calling it a "bloodstained solution" which revolted him.

The onetime chief of the Gestapo's Jewish Affairs Section brought gasps of disbelief from the packed court with his attack on the plan he is accused of masterminding.

"I always revolted at this bloodstained solution," he testified before the three-judge court trying him on war crimes charges. "It was particularly sad that this had to happen to me—to me, who cherished the Madagascar plan."

Eichmann has testified he authored the Madagascar plan to settle Jews on the big island of Africa's east coast to get "a little soil under the feet of the Jews."

The plan was rejected by Adolf Hitler, who favored instead a "final solution of the Jewish problem" by mass extermination.

Nearing the climax of his defense against charges of criminal responsibility in this liquidation of six million Jews, Eichmann admitted Thursday he visited Nazi death camps on four different occasions.

Eichmann denied statements made in postwar crimes trials by former associates and cronies that he gave the orders for carrying out Hitler's final solution.

"My job was to report to my superiors. I had no contact with extermination. I saw some of the killings but only in order to make reports. I had to do it."

Beer Can Tosser Fined And Jailed

CAMBRIDGE (AP) — A Montgomery County youth, Donald Bynum Bass, Thursday was fined $50 and sentenced to six months in the Maryland House of Correction on charges of assault and battery and for throwing a beer can from a car window. His companion, Charles David Vitale, was charged with exceeding 70 miles per hour and disorderly conduct by Corporal Robert Burkhardt, who made the arrest.

The 18-year-old youths, both of Silver Spring, Md., were apprehended by state police Wednesday night near Mardela in Wicomico County, minutes after their alleged offenses on the Choptank River bridge near Cambridge. Mardela is on Rt. 50 about 20 miles southeast of this Dorchester County town.

According to police, Bass hurled a beer can from the window of a car driven by Vitale while they were traveling to Ocean City. The can struck Donald Keene of Cambridge on the leg. Keene was treated at Cambridge-Maryland Hospital and released.

75,526 In Md. Hold Federal Civilian Jobs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Maryland had 75,526 federal civilian workers at the start of this year out of a national total of 2,372,580.

Only eight other states and the District of Columbia had more, according to a report issued Thursday by the joint congressional committee on reduction of non-essential federal expenditures.

The report showed California in first place with 239,464, New York second with 179,784, Pennsylvania third with 129,084, Texas fourth with 112,447, and Virginia fifth with 103,560.

The District of Columbia, with 168,991, was ranked just behind California and New York. A memorandum accompanying the report said the employees were counted where they worked, not where they lived.

Defense Department workers accounted for a major portion of the Maryland total. The report showed 18,159 Army civilian workers, 14,527 Navy, and 2,246 Air Force.

Other federal employment in Maryland included 17,012 in the Health, Education and Welfare Department, 7,535 postal workers, 2,276 in the Treasury, 3,019 in the Agriculture Department, 2,644 in the Commerce Department, 1,676 Atomic Energy Commission, 1,321 General Services Administration, 1,101 in the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, 2,513 in the Veterans Administration.

Police Seek White Man As Bolivian Girl's Killer

LORTON, Va. (AP) — Police hunt for the slayer will continue.

The State Department said Rusk cabled Bolivian Foreign Minister Eduardo Arze Quiroga the U.S. regrets for the brutal crime against Miss Marta Santa Cruz and expressed sympathy to her family.

The search for a white man was based on analysis of skin and hair found beneath the slain girl's fingernails.

Police of three jurisdictions are sifting available clues. Detectives of Fairfax County, where the body was found, met in Washington with Inspector Aubrey Tolson, acting chief of detectives, and others.

Miss Santa Cruz, who lived in Washington with a sister, Ivonne, 20, and a friend, Miss Xenia Melendez, 24, was last seen by friends early Saturday.

It was presumed she was on her way to a downtown store to cash her salary check from the Washington Hospital Center, where she was a clerk-typist.

Close friends of Miss Santa Cruz, a member of a prominent La Paz, Bolivia, family, are convinced she would not have gone anywhere with a stranger.

One Killed, 28 Hurt As Bus Strikes Tree

CENTREVILLE, Va. (AP) — A skidding express bus smashed against a tree near here early Thursday, killing one woman and injuring 28 other passengers.

The Florida-New York Trailways bus was carrying 36 passengers when it skidded on rain-slick U.S. 29 a mile east of here shortly before dawn.

Mrs. Mardra Briscoe, 52, a nurse's aide in a Washington hospital, was killed when thrown from the vehicle. Six ambulances made shuttle trips to the new Fairfax County Hospital with the injured. None was reported in critical condition.

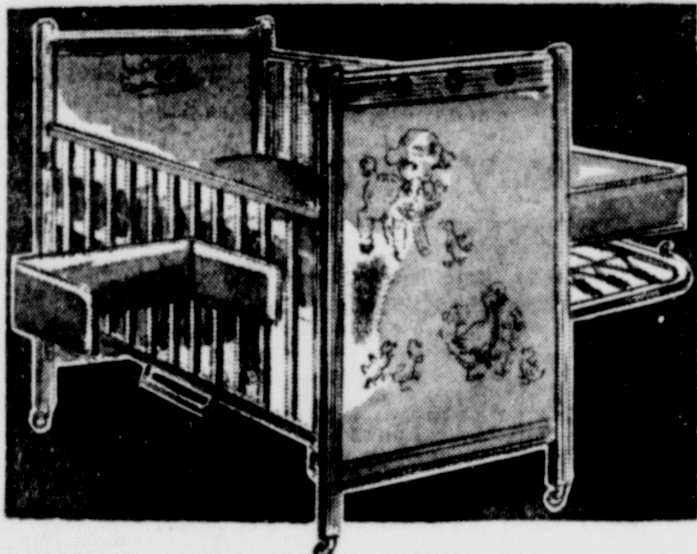

Wade Turner, the 37-year-old driver from Danville, Va., was unable to explain the accident, saying, "I touched my brakes a little and the rear end began to switch."

BAC Asks JFK For New Status

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Business Advisory Council asked President Kennedy Thursday to shift it from its historic place in the Department of Commerce and make it a general economic adviser to the government.

There was no immediate reaction from the White House on the suggestions submitted there by the BAC executive committee, headed by Roger M. Blough, board chairman of U. S. Steel Corp.

After the session with the President—which was not attended by Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges — the committee released a statement outlining its proposals. Blough also talked with newsmen and said, without quoting Kennedy directly, that the President expressed satisfaction with the proposal.

Under BAC's proposal, it still would undertake assignments for the Commerce Department but would be available for other departments and agencies—and obviously would have an entirely different status from the one it has had since its formation 27 years ago.

AAR Notes Big Drop In Railroad Income

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Association of American Railroads Thursday estimated the net income of the nation's Class I lines at only $17 million in the first five months of 1961. This compares with a net of $195 million in the same period last year and $234 million in the same period of 1959.

The low earnings figure for this year reflects operating deficits in the earliest months which continued to plague many Eastern lines into the spring.

Class I railroads are those having $3 million or more operating revenues annually. Net income is the amount remaining after operating expenses and allowances for fixed charges, including taxes.

Ike Warns Against Political Domination

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower told young Americans Thursday, "We must be careful that government doesn't come too far into our lives."

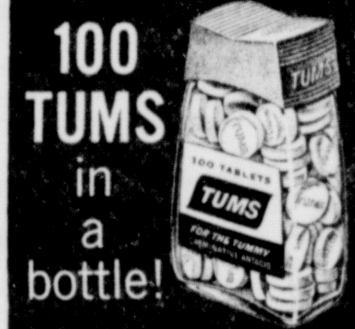

The country's forefathers, Eisenhower said, spoke of freedom in terms of protection against political domination, "while today we think of freedom in terms of freedom from want, from hunger, or from privation."

"In other words," he continued, "freedom gets a new meaning for the simple reason that we give a greater governmental authority over your lives in order that you get these new freedoms."

Eisenhower spoke at a luncheon opening a three-day conference of Explorer Scouts from Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, Pennsylvania, and the District of Columbia.

Nicaragua was discovered by Christopher Columbus on his fourth voyage to the New World in 1502.

Rees Attorneys May Ask Shift Of Trial In Va.

SPOTSYLVANIA, Va. (AP)—Motions that the trial for the accused slayer of the Jackson family be moved to another locality — or at least that the jury come from elsewhere — are expected to be made here July 17.

Defense attorneys for Melvin Davis Rees Jr. are expected to argue that the 32-year-old musician could not obtain a fair trial in this area because of public sentiment.

Rees is to be arraigned in Spotsylvania County Circuit Court July 17 on a murder indictment in the slaying of Carroll V. Jackson Jr., 29, of Apple Grove. He also is charged in Spotsylvania County with the slaying of Jackson's daughter, Janet, 18 months, but has not been indicted on that count.

Joseph L. Savage Jr. and Alfred W. Garnett, Rees' two court-appointed attorneys from Frederickburg, are known to be gathering evidence designed to show that Rees could not receive a fair trial here. The prosecution, headed by Commonwealth's Atty. Stokely T. Coleman, is expected to present evidence designed to counter the defense contentions.

Rees already is under two life sentences imposed in U.S. District Court at Baltimore on conviction of the kidnap-slaying of Jackson's wife, Mildred, 27, and another daughter, Susan, 5.

The family disappeared Jan. 11, 1959, while returning to their Louisa County home from a Sunday visit with Mrs. Jackson's parents. The bodies of Jackson and Janet were found about three months later near an abandoned sawmill site near Frederickburg. The bodies of Mrs. Jackson and Susan were found later near Gambrills, Md.

Motorcyclist Killed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Roger McRobie, 21, of Washington, was killed Thursday when his motorcycle was crushed by a car at First and East Capital Sts.

The car was driven by Mrs. Eunice Roenicke, 49, of Lanham, Md.

Maryland News In Brief

BALTIMORE (AP)—Raymond Printz, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Printz of Frederick, is in City Hospitals here under treatment for polio.

Physicians said his case, which involved partial paralysis of the lower left leg, was the first attributed to polio in Maryland this summer. The boy was said to be in satisfactory condition.

NORBECK, Md. (AP)—Lawrence Johnson, 45, of Norbeck, injured when an automobile in which he was a passenger crashed into a utility pole near here, died Wednesday in Montgomery County General Hospital. Two other persons were injured in the one-car smashup.

WHEATON, Md. (AP)—A cross-burning incident on the front steps of the new home of a Negro family here is under investigation by police.

The cross was discovered Tuesday night at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Adolph Williams, who moved into the home with their two daughters June 16. The family was away at the time, and neighbors pulled the flaming cross away from the house and stamped out the blaze.

OXON HILL, Md. (AP)—Miss Judith L. Wright, 22, a 1960 graduate of the University of Maryland, has announced July 29 as the date of her wedding to Pete Dawkins, former Army football star and now a Rhodes scholar at Oxford.

Miss Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Wright of Oxon Hill, returned home two weeks ago from England, where she has been teaching. The wedding will be at West Point.

BALTIMORE (AP)—An exhibition of 140 works of the 19th Century impressionist Vincent van Gogh will be displayed at the Baltimore Museum of Art Oct. 18 to Nov. 26, the first show on a four-city tour. The exhibition later will be taken to Cleveland, Buffalo, N.Y., and Boston, in a series ending next April 29.

SALISBURY (AP)—Miss Maryland of 1962, the girl who will take the state's banner to the Miss America Pageant in September, will be chosen here Saturday night.

Twelve contestants are competing for the prize. The winner will be crowned by Miss Nancy Anne Fleming of Michigan, Miss America of 1961.

Taxing of whisky began with the passage of an excise law in 1791.

Area Redevelopment Conference Planned

BALTIMORE (AP)—Gov. Tawes will open a conference on the Area Redevelopment Act and other federal assistance programs here on July 10, the Department of Economic Development announced Thursday.

The department said the meeting is designed to acquaint local community leaders, individuals and organizations throughout the state of the nearly 100 types of federal aid now available for community economic development.

The conference will center its attention on the act, signed into law by President Kennedy May 1. The economic development agency has been charged by Gov. Tawes to insure Maryland gets the maximum benefits under the act.

Price Of Milk By Half Gallon Up In Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP)—The price of milk by the half gallon went up in Baltimore Thursday. The increase ranged from one to three cents depending on grade and container both in stores and for home delivery.

The increases to consumers reflect a mandatory amount dairies must pay to the producer. By federal order, the farmer must be paid a minimum of $5.55 per 100 pounds of milk from now until March. The price level had been $5.10 since spring.

State Auto Fund Grows

BALTIMORE (AP) — The number of Maryland owned motor vehicles without liability insurance has dropped appreciably. But the amount of money collected from those without it has gone up considerably.

The difference is accounted for by a sharp increase — from $8 to $26 — in the fee charged motorists without the minimum liability insurance.

John R. Jewell, Department of Motor Vehicles Commissioner, reported Thursday that 29,466 owners have paid the extra assessment this year in addition to their license fees. Last year, the extra fee was paid by 72,303.

But the total collected last year was only $578,424 while so far this year it is $766,900.

The money goes into a fund from which insured motorists are eligible to collect for damage or personal injury if it is caused by an uninsured vehicle or otherwise uncollectible.

The guillotine was named for Dr. Joseph Guillotine.

Young Killer's Brother Slated To Get Estate

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Fifteen-year-old Arthur Lee Dresbach probably will become sole heir to the $50,000 estate of his foster father who was killed by the boy's brother.

The brother, 16-year-old Ralph Wayne Dresbach, also shot and killed his foster mother, but he was tried and convicted only on a murder charge in the death of his father, Harold Malone Dresbach, 50, a prominent Washington attorney.

Mrs. Dresbach's estate is estimated at $25,000 according to records in Orphans Court.

Whether the 16-year-old boy also disqualified himself as heir to Mrs. Dresbach's estate is a legal poser since he was not tried for her slaying.

Past decisions of the Maryland Court of Appeals in similar cases have held that an heir could not profit by the death of a person he murdered.

The wills of Mr. and Mrs. Dresbach had provided that the brothers, whom they adopted, should share equally in their estates.

The couple was shot to death in the family's home near Deale last Jan. 7.

The older boy was convicted of Dr. Dresbach's murder last Friday. Sentence, automatically life imprisonment since the jury specifically omitted capital punishment, has been delayed pending a petition to commit the boy to the Patuxent Institution for Defectivedelinquents.

Sentences to the institution are indeterminate while the inmate is given psychiatric treatment. Trial testimony indicated the boy was mentally ill, but not legally insane.

No Plans For Summit

LONDON (UPI) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan said on Thursday "there are no plans at present" for a Western big three summit meeting on the Berlin question.

Answering questions in the House of Commons, Macmillan said France, Britain and the United States are in close touch on developments in Germany.

Science At Work

By The Associated Press

Nonradioactive Milk

Radioactive strontium is taken out of milk through a process developed by U.S. Department of Agriculture.

It isn't needed for milk now, but might be if nuclear bombs ever poison our milk.

The milk is treated with dilute citric acid, and passed through an ion exchange column to take out the strontium. Then dilute potassium hydroxide neutralizes the acid, and the milk is pasteurized and homogenized. The continuous process now is about ready for testing in a pilot or small-plant scale.

Predicting Earthquakes

The chances of finally being able to predict bad earthquakes may be advanced through a modernized network of "quake recording stations."

Sensitive new instruments soon will be installed by Coast and Geodetic Survey technicians in a world network to gather uniform knowledge about the nature, location, frequency, energy, and mechanisms of thousands of shocks juggling this earth each year.

The equipment is being installed at 125 existing recording stations in 65 countries and islands, with reports to be analyzed in Washington. Installation of instruments is expected to be completed by late 1962.

Satellite View

Now you can have your own pictures of how the clouds and this planet look from a satellite.

Pictures taken by Tiros I, the world's first experimental weather satellite, now can be obtained on order from the National Weather Records Center in Asheville, N.C.

Tiros I took more than 20,000 pictures of the earth. Pictures in the first seven 100-foot reels are publicly available now in the form of 35 mm positive transparencies for projection, or 33 mm duplication negatives from which opaque prints can be made.

The Weather Bureau says it will accept orders only for one or more complete reels, at a cost of $4 per 100-foot reel. The pictures are arranged by date, and labeled according to orbit number and frame.

Burns Prove Fatal

BALTIMORE (AP) — Walter Thomas, 64-year-old heart patient at the Fort Howard Veterans Hospital, died Thursday of burns.

The Baltimorean's clothing caught fire Tuesday from a cigarette. He had been a hospital patient since Dec. 10.

GIVE COLORFUL NEW LOOK TO RUSTY BASEMENT PIPES
Who says rusty basement pipes can't blend into modern basement decor? Rust-Oleum® coatings can help turn the trick! Basement pipes, particularly cold water pipes, tend to "sweat." The warm air deposits its moisture on the colder pipe surface in the form of condensation. Rusty, "sweaty" pipes, however, can be coated with Rust-Oleum 769 Primer. First—scrape and wirebrush to remove rust scale and loose rust. Second—working over approximate four foot sections, wipe excess moisture away with a cloth and apply Rust-Oleum 769 Primer over the immediate area. After priming the entire length of pipe, apply your Rust-Oleum top coat color. Many times, it's a good idea to wrap special insulating tape around the pipe after priming the pipe with Rust-Oleum 769 Primer. This helps to resist moisture. The Rust-Oleum top coat color can then be applied over the tape.
Beautify and protect steel beams, columns, steel conduit, furnace ducts, and even the bottom of your furnace cabinet where it meets the floor. Your nearby paint, hardware, lumber and farm dealer features Rust-Oleum in brush or self-spray containers. Ask your Rust-Oleum dealer for "101 Rust-Stopping Tips." This new thirty-six page booklet is yours free from your Rust-Oleum dealer, or from the Rust-Oleum Corporation, 2990 Oakton Street, Evanston, Ill.

Six Indicted By Hampshire Grand Jury

ROMNEY — Six indictments were returned Wednesday by the grand jury for the July term of Hampshire County Circuit Court. Judge H. G. Muntzing presided.

Indicted were Brother Ginevan on a charge of rape, and William Montgomery Moreland, for attempted rape. The men were arraigned on the charges that involved an 11-year-old girl of the Levels area.

Calvin Largent pleaded guilty to forgery of a Social Security check that had been issued to Bernard L. and Flossie Tripiett. At the time of his arrest, Largent was on probation from the previous term of court.

Jesse Clyde Hott was indicted for drunken driving, and Dewey D. Davis, 27, of Vanderlip, for unlawful assault on Mary Arnold, 79, of the Purgettsville area.

Judge Muntzing said the petit jury would not be called until Tuesday, September 5, explaining that the delay results from the trials now underway at Moorefield in Hardy County Court.

Youth Sentenced In Morals Case

A 17-year-old Cresaptown area youth was sentenced to the Maryland Training School for Boys at a hearing yesterday in Juvenile Court on a charge of molesting a four-year-old Winchester Road girl.

Magistrate Louis A. Fatkin also stipulated that the youth should undergo psychiatric treatment while at the institution. In passing sentence, the magistrate said "molesting of young children, whether by adults or juveniles, will not be tolerated in this court."

All such cases will be dealt with severely, Magistrate Fatkin warned.

For clothes that are always ready to wear, some clothes grooming tricks and a caretaker closet.

Secrets Of Charm
by John Robert Powers
Time-Saver Good Grooming For A Wardrobe

Successful clothes grooming is never a last-minute proposition. It must be day in and day out, and is best when check-up and repair comes as clothes are removed after wearing. A spot is more likely to disappear without a trace if it's treated before it's hung in the closet, and there's no taking it out again to discover it can't be worn if the snap is sewn on, the rip mended, and the pressing's done or it was sent to the cleaner immediately.

Woolens and hats are fresher if they're brushed before they're put away instead of afterward, and shoe leather stays in so much better condition if it's kept soft with polish all the time. Make it easy for yourself — keep all the necessary equipment on your closet door for refurbishing your clothes. Make it a caretaker closet, the best possible place to maintain clothes grooming while it hides the clothes away.

Two small shelves on the closet door easily hold everything needed: a clothes brush, bottles of cleaning fluid, cream polish for leather, a shoe buffer, a suede brush, needles, and thread.

Below the shelves there's plenty of room for a small hamper. Shoes can be set on racks on the closet floor below short bags for suits and blouses. Make sure every garment is properly hung so it won't wrinkle and drop out of shape. Suspend coats, jackets, dresses, and blouses on padded or broad-shouldered hangers in garment bags. Never fold skirts or slacks over a hanger rod, but use hangers made for them and use hat boxes or stands for hats, sweater bags or boxes for sweaters, or fold them in tissue paper in a drawer.

Garrett Vacation Booklet Available

A Vacation Guide for Garrett County has been printed and is being distributed.

The 64-page publication has a map of Maryland on the cover with a picture in color of Deep Creek Lake. The booklet carries the inscription, "Maryland's Year-Around Mountain-Top Playground."

Inside of the cover carries a map showing principal resort areas of Garrett County and main highways to Baltimore, Washington and Pittsburgh from the county.

Deep Creek Lake, focal point of the publication, was built in 1923 and covers 4,800 acres with 65 miles of shoreline. The lake contains 34 billion gallons of water. The crest of the dam is 2,500 feet above sea level and the turbines which create electric power are 440 feet below.

Pictures include fishing scenes not only at the lake but also in various streams and impoundments within the county. Deep Creek Lake State Park is pictured and the facilities listed in an accompanying article.

Swallow Falls and Muddy Creek Falls are described and pictured as well as Herrington Manor and New Germany Recreation Area. The Oakland Country Club golf links are shown.

A number of skiing scenes at the Marsh Mountain slope near Deep Creek Lake are pictured. Snow planing on the lake with ice boats is illustrated with a photograph. Ice skating is also available.

A number of pictures of deer, squirrel and other wildlife available for the hunter in the fall are carried.

Maple sugar time is illustrated with a picture and story. The Garrett County Playhouse which presents shows during the summer months is also given considerable attention.

Land's End is a cape that is the westernmost land of England.

Asiatic Cookery Is Hot, Diversified

By JEANNE LESEM

NEW YORK (UPI) — There's peppery spice in one Asian dish serving six to season a Westerner's meals for months.

The firepower and diversity of authentic Asian foods came to my attention in the CAT Bulletin, bi-monthly publication of the Civil Air Transport.

Women's editor Rita Han of Taipei, Formosa, collected popular recipes of several nations served by the airline.

A Thai curry was made with chicken, 7 cups of coconut cream, 2 cups of fresh green chilies, 5 to 8 tablespoons of curry paste or powder, 1 teaspoon of salt, 2 tablespoons of "nam pla" sauce (a fish sauce), 1 teaspoon of kafir lime leaves, and 1 cup of sweet basil leaves. The results — strictly for fire-eaters.

Another Thai main dish, kang musaman, is just as hot. Seasoning for 2 pounds, 2 ounces of beef included 7 to 10 dried chilies or red peppers, 2 tablespoons each of coriander seeds and chopped ginger, 7 to 10 roasted shallots, 5 cloves of garlic, roasted, 8 to 15 bay leaves, and 15 to 20 cardamoms.

Even two Chinese recipes, sweet and sour pork, and hot peppers and chicken, contained enough red pepper to anesthetize taste buds within seconds.

Filipino recipes, which I'd heard were highly spiced, seemed mild by contrast. The sauce for spit-roasted suckling pig had only 1 teaspoon of minced garlic, ½ tablespoon of chopped onion, ½ teaspoon of black pepper, and 1 teaspoon of kasubha, or laurel leaves, roasted.

Japanese dishes included tempura and sukiyaki, familiar to many Westerners. In tempura cookery, bite-sized seafood, usually shrimp or prawns, or vegetables, are dipped into seasoned batter and deep fat fried. The fiery flavor is in a dipping sauce made with grated ginger, grated Japanese radish or turnip, soy sauce, fish stock and sweet sake, a rice wine. Suki-yaki is a mixture of paper thin slices of beef or chicken, cooked with vegetables and relatively mild seasoning in a shallow saucepan.

Korean food I first had tasted in a Honolulu restaurant, recommended by Korean employees of a pineapple packer. After 1½ years, my taste buds still smolder at the mention of kim chee, a fermented pickle relish said to consist mainly of celery cabbage and green onions. The red pepper and ginger flavor was so strong that I hardly tasted the remainder of the meal. Korean grilled steak, the main course, was Korea's version of charcoal grilled steak, pul ko kee, and if I can borrow a backyard with grill, I'm going to find out what it really tastes like, using this recipe from the Bulletin:—

Make a marinade of 4 tablespoons of sugar, 2 tablespoons of oil, 6 tablespoons of soy sauce, the white and some tops of 1 green onion, chopped, 1 clove of garlic, chopped, 1 tablespoon of flour, and 4 tablespoons of sesame seed, browned, salted and pulverized.

Soak 1 pound of thinly sliced beef cut into 3-inch squares in the marinade for 15 minutes. Broil on charcoal to desired doneness. If preferred, the meat may be browned instead in a frying pan in a small amount of oil, then steamed with a little water until it is tender.

WIFE PRESERVERS

Both girdle and stockings will last longer if garters are fastened straight and in the center of the stocking hem. It's a good idea, too, to fasten the back one onto the stocking seam.

To keep hats looking fresh and new, remove and store separately any veils or fragile trimmings before packing them away.

Crown Roast Of Pork

Have 10 to 12 pork chops made into a crown roast. Put aluminum foil over ends to prevent burning. Season to taste. Cook uncovered at 325° 35 to 40 minutes per pound. One hour before it's done put following stuffing in center of roast:

Stuffing:
Mix together:
1 lb. can cream corn
1 can whole kernel corn (drained)
1 beaten egg
1 c. crushed potato chips
¼ c. chopped onion
¼ c. green pepper
2 c. chopped pimento
1 tsp. pepper
Continue cooking until done.

Deep Fat Fried Oysters

1 quart select oysters
2 eggs, beaten
2 tablespoons milk
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
1 cup bread crumbs, cracker crumbs, or cornmeal

Drain oysters. Mix eggs, milk and seasonings. Dip oysters in egg mixture and roll in crumbs. Fry in hot fat heated to 375°F.

Orange Date Bars

1¼ cup sifted all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ cup vegetable shortening
2 teaspoons grated orange rind
1 tablespoon milk
1¼ cups, firmly packed, light brown sugar

2 eggs
1 teaspoon orange extract
1 cup fine grated coconut
¾ cup chopped pitted dates
½ cup chopped nuts

Sift flour; measure; sift again with baking powder and salt. Measure ¼ cup; set aside for use in top layer. Cream shortening and grated orange rind. Add milk and ¼ cup of brown sugar. Blend in flour to make a crumbly mixture. Turn into a greased 9 x 9-squares.

Market Continues Climb
On Increased Turnover

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks
rose to a 16 session high Thursday despite profit taking which whittled away about half the gain from the final hour.
While the market continued the steady advance begun last Friday, volume swelled to 3,470,000 shares, 200,000 shares more than in the prior session and the most since June 19.
A total of 1,255 issues were traded, 14 less than Wednesday. Of those 650 rose, 40 to new highs and 387 fell, nine to new lows.
Standard & Poor's 500 stock index showed a nominal gain of 0.18 while the Dow-Jones industrial average picked up 1.50 to close at 694.27 featuring American

Tobacco, International Nickel,
Swift & Co., Texaco and Union
Carbide up a point or more.
Bethlehem Steel, which reportedly made a poor showing in June, fell 1 1/2 and Chrysler paced a softer motor section with a loss of 1 1/4.
The rail segment closed at 142-48 for a gain of 1.51, the widest since May 17. C&O fell 1 1/2, reacting to poor earnings, but Norfolk & Western, New York Central and Southern Railway gained better than a point.
Utilities finished at 113.86, up 0.20. Profit taking sent high flying Commonwealth Edison off
1 1/2 but Con Edison picked up
1 1/4.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI) — Rye futures ruled strong in an otherwise mixed session
Thursday on the Chicago Board of Trade.
At the final bell, wheat was off 1/2 to 1, corn off 1/4 to 1/2, oats off 1/4 to 1/2, rye up 1/2 to 1, soybeans off 1/2 to 1/4.
A strong market at Winnipeg, which saw July flatted soar the 15-cent limit for a single day, prompted heavy buying in local rye futures.
Extremely dry weather persisted in the Northwest and Canada despite local moisture. All Canadian futures were higher, with many contracts reaching new peaks
for the season.
The Chicago wheat market declined after fading by recent rains in the Midwest. Export and local buying later rallied prices.
Spreads were active between July and September deliveries. Commission interests bought December.
Dry conditions in the Northwest also affected July, which was in good demand.
Many traders stood on the sidelines in asbestos as trade remained nervous. The July fell sharply with oil and meter recovering from one-sided decline. Deferred months moved higher.
Exporters reported that the United Arab Emirates purchased 1,200,000 bushels of corn, while Chile took 400,000 bushels.
Packets of old crop soybeans were sold to continent Europe.

Olives For Every Diet

"Extra Large" size has a mere 7 calories, scarcely enough to have much effect on your day's calorie count if you're a weight watcher, but on the other hand a good way to add to the enjoyment of a lean diet.

Add the ripe olives to salads and relish trays, their nut-like flavor gives a "substantial" eating quality dieters often crave.
Include them, too, in various salad preparations. They're especially pleasing with tuna fish, salmon and shrimp, and go well
also with egg and poultry salad mixtures.

Preparing a meat or poultry stuffing? The ripe olives will give a fine, subtle, yet richer flavor to your stuffing. They're equally effective in casserole dishes, blending well with such other ingredients as rice, noodles, potatoes, and the basic "protein" food. Sauces are another good place for olives, whether they be for vegetables, meat, poultry, or fish.

Having some friends in the afternoon? Here's a recipe for Jellied Meat Salad, using ripe olives, that's sure to impress them. It's recommended by U.
S. Department of Agriculture home economists.

W. Va. School Officials Hit New Policies

WHEELING, W. Va. (UPI) — Two top officials of the State Education Department told the State Board of Education, in effect, Thursday that it must choose between newly appointed state Supt. Rex Smith and a theory of more "positive influence" on public education in West Virginia.

They called the board's choice "a policy-making decision of unprecedented magnitude and of deep concern to all West Virginians."

The deep differences of opinion between Smith and the two officials he wants to oust were disclosed at a hearing before the Board here.

Board members previously backed Smith informally but agreed to give a hearing to L. Craig Wilson, assistant superintendent in charge of research and planning, and T. Madison Byar, coordinator of the school improvement program, before making the decision final.

Wilson and Byar set out their case in a 46-page mimeographed and bound volume which they titled "The Struggle for a Modern State Department of Education in West Virginia."

In it, they did not once mention Smith by name, but made it plain they believed his educational philosophy and ideas of the department's role differed sharply from those of the man he replaced last March, the late R. Virgil Rohrbough.

They said, too, that Rohrbough had gone or was ready to go along with their ideas on reorganization of the department at the time of his death from a heart attack on March 6.

Much Involved

Wilson has been with the department since 1957, Byar since 1959, while Smith had served as Monongalia County superintendent before becoming Rohrbough's chief assistant in 1957.

The two officials emphasized throughout their "brief" that more than personality differences were involved, although State-house sources in Charleston said this was at least part of the trouble.

"What appears to be an isolated personnel issue...is only the latest symptom of an education system which is quite possibly very faulty in both concept and structure — a system undergoing forced change in an absence of positive educational leadership," they said.

Summarizing "current conditions" of West Virginia schools, they said they reflect:

"Low teacher morale, low pupil achievement, dissipated professional energy, unimaginative centralized administration, a practically powerless State Department of Education, little or no long-range planning, an appalling lack of Board policies at all levels, powerful extra - legal groups, a restless public, very little effective research and planning, a steady out - migration of talented school personnel, and a pending massive turnover among county school superintendents."

Wilson and Byar said the voters showed their discontent by making the superintendency appointive, by the Board, instead of elective, in 1958, but that "enabling legislation to support an appointive superintendency" has still not been enacted.

Can Be Czar

Under the present arrangement, they said, "a state superintendent can be, if he so chooses, a virtual czar of education, and his staff...can have only such rights as he may personally choose to accord them."

They indicated there were strong policy differences with Smith on the role of the Research Division, which they said was set up in 1957 to "deal almost exclusively with the large basic issues of department - wide and statewide significance."

"Daily 'on-call-type' field service was never intended to be a division function," they said.

The Board itself was also criticized for not making clear its new relationship to the superintendent who, under the old system, was largely independent of its control, and for providing "no directional guides...to indicate to the department the wishes and intent of the Board."

Wilson and Byar said that under Rohrbough, a "Monday Group" weekly meeting of Rohrbough and the department heads had started to fill this policy vacuum, but that Smith has, in effect, abandoned it.

They said their work had been in line with policies tentatively formulated by this group and with the "Incentive Approach to School Improvement" formally adopted as department policy in 1957.

After outlining the work their divisions had done, they said their record "needs no defense — only interpretation and understanding," and that this was their only reason for asking for a hearing.

"Basically, the point of view of this document is that a state department of education should positively influence the conditions that surround and control the learning of children," they said. "A department that just 'knows' the conditions can not long justify its existence."

In its present loosely organized framework, they said, the department "stands for nothing more vigorous than the nourishment of an apathetic harmony and apparently outranks the vigorous promotion of clear ideas."

Policies are inconsistent and seldom "go beyond the piecemeal methods of expediency and on-the-spot policy making," they said, adding that "adequate and consistent policies just do not exist in the central education agency of West Virginia."

They recommended that the Board:

— "Set up, or approve, criteria for the selection or appointment of all State Board employees, including the superintendent.

— "Require the Department to prepare in writing a compatible set of policies.

— Require that "the precise relationship of State Department employees to each other, to the Department, and to the State Board...be described in writing."

"We rest our case on the merits of our work and put our faith in the integrity of the Board," they added.

Water Policy

der questioned the legality of the Water Department policy, expressing concern that it was tied to annexation.

It was explained that in effect the City was allowing nearby area to have water under a contract which allows annexation.

City officials pointed out that only one person is really objecting to the policy on adjacent areas, and that the contract is signed only with individuals who want water.

May Check Leaks

City officials expressed agreement, but took no formal action, on a plan to have a water leak survey made here.

In response to a query by Mrs. Roeder, Water Commissioner G. Ray Light said a firm which specializes in such work has offered to make the survey for about $9,500. The last such survey was held a number of years ago.

Mrs. Roeder said the survey should be made and Mr. Light said he will submit the proposal to the Mayor and Council soon.

In reference to an annexation petition for an area adjacent to Constitution Park, it was agreed that no consideration of an annexation petition will be taken if developers plan to secure access through the park.

Budget meetings, it was decided, will be held as they were last year, with department heads conferring with City Comptroller Arthur B. Gibson prior to general meetings of the Mayor and Council.

Plan Meeting

City officials were briefed on plans of the Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission to select a planning firm for the City of Cumberland.

There were indications that funds may be set aside in the upcoming budget to finance the first year of the planning study, which city officials want to see started by September 1.

Plans were made to meet with all interested city employees and groups Monday at 11 a.m.

The Mayor and Council met Monday morning with representatives of the Police and Firemen's Welfare Association and took under consideration a request for a wage increase for the coming year.

After the jury returned the verdict, Judge Harris informed eight of the members they are to return to court this morning when another condemnation suit is scheduled to be heard.

It is a suit of the SRC versus Edith Beck Stallings Donahue and Bernard Grover Donahue in connection with property needed in the Long Hill section at the eastern limits of Cumberland.

freezing of blood by use of liquid nitrogen. The blood can be frozen for 45 seconds, and reconstituted by agitating in warm water in 55 seconds. While this blood is not usable for all cases requiring whole blood, it has been used successfully in some cases.

This is only part of a constant research program being conducted by National Red Cross to develop and make effective the use of whole blood as well as its derivative for use of individuals in the communities.

From current reports, Mrs. Lindsay said, it would seem that people do not believe as much blood is needed during summer months as during the rest of the year. Experience has shown, she said, that there is no period of the year when demand is less than at another time. Emphasis was placed on the fact that for the past several years collection of blood during the summer months has been critically low.

Mobile unit schedules of Johnstown region blood program call for enough visits to collect an adequate supply of blood so that it

Although many people go on trips during this month, it is hoped that there will be enough stay-at-homes to make a donation of blood and meet the requirements for the bloodmobile unit visit scheduled Monday at the Eagles Home on Frederick Street from 12 until 6 p.m. Mrs. Lindsay said that even though contact has not been made with a person by the Red Cross, anyone may visit the center at the Eagles Home to donate blood. Walk-ins are always welcome.

Announcement was made of a meeting to be held in Johnstown July 19 at 10 a.m. A training session will be conducted for all interested chapter personnel. This will be followed by a meeting of the Johnstown Regional Blood Committee. A number of local volunteers are expected to attend the session.

West Girds Its Loins
For Berlin Crisis

Loins of the free world are being girded for the Berlin crisis which Nikita Khrushchev seems determined to force on it this year.

The United States is making plans to send at least one more division to Europe to support the five already there. France is planning to restore two divisions to NATO.

President de Gaulle, who has been making heartening statements lately about the need for the unity and solidarity of the free world, is reported to be considering letting American nuclear-armed planes be stationed in France again.

None of this, to be sure, is expected to frighten the over-confident Khrushchev. Three more Western divisions do not come close to equalizing the military situation, and that is not the intention in making them available. They do emphasize the West's determination.

The communists, meanwhile, are emphasizing their own determination. The East Germans are being called upon by their communist masters to expect more "toil . . . difficulties . . . sacrifice" as part of the "struggle for a peace treaty" which would make the partition of Germany permanent.

The call comes at a time when East Germans are faced by critical shortages of food and consumer goods. A great many East Germans are also apprehensive over threats to seal off West Berlin, because they regard West Berlin as a haven to which they may one day decide to escape—as almost 5,000 of them a week are already doing.

In this context, the troops being sent to reinforce NATO are a symbol. Stalin was convinced he had more to gain by taking over Europe than through friendship with the United States because he had been given to understand that American troops would hardly remain in Europe for more than two years after the war.

Khrushchev, no less imperialistic than Stalin, does not want to see even a few American troops returning to Europe.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Tractor Fiasco

One tends to give the benefit of the doubt to those who seek to devote themselves to saving persons from imprisonment or death. However, it is often the case that persons of good-will become over-enthusiastic about just causes. The attempt to exchange tractors for human beings was not only absurd but undignified. The device of having a committee of private citizens attempt to do what the government was ashamed to do, fooled nobody. Quite openly the Committee advertised that the President of the United States was behind the proposal. Negotiations between the United States and a foreign nation however are best conducted through proper channels.

Castro, of course, made monkeys of the Tractor Committee. He constantly changed the terms. He asked for more. His final proposal was so ridiculous that the Tractor Committee had to turn it down and go out of existence.

What is there to be learned from all this? More and more it is becoming clear that there are too many volunteers and amateurs in the Kennedy Administration, too many anxious beavers who want to get into things. The President has much to learn from the Cuban fiasco which continues to be a fiasco. Surely he has discovered by now that the Marine Corps can do a better commando job than the CIA. The redoubtable General Smedley Butler showed more ability any day of his service than the para-military amateurs in the CIA.

Secondly, the President must by now have discovered that an excellent technician does not necessarily have the breadth of view and the imagination to formulate policy. The fourth floor of the State Department represents, on the whole, considerable ability but insufficient maturity. It was the fourth floor of the State Department that made it possible for Castro to take possession of Cuba. It was there that the decision was made that Batista was a bad boy and Castro a good boy.

Thirdly, on the other hand, no President can do without trained experts. These men have the advantage of languages, of knowledge of the history and literature and the personalities of the countries with which they deal.

The distinction between a technician and a policy-maker, however, is very great. A President and a Secretary of State can and should utilize technicians where they fit, but policy should be made on a broader plane than the technicians are capable of grasping.

Finally, the uninformed, untrained amateur, whose heart is in the right place and who slobbers over every sentimental cause can be a menace. During World War I and immediately after, the manufacturer of plumbing, Charles R. Crane, a noble citizen, well-intentioned and kindly, set up an organization of wise men whom he sent to various countries on his private payroll to advise foreign governments in various ways. The Crane men were supposed to keep their connection secret, but such things do come out. I encountered some of them in China in those days and they proved to be a nuisance both to the American and Chinese officials.

During the Russian Revolution in 1917, perhaps half a dozen Americans, some of distinction, represented the State Department, President Wilson privately, the American Red Cross, and George Creel's organization. Each man had different instructions. Each one vied with the other in attempting to be important. I recall that Leon Trotsky, who was worried that certain elements would kidnap the American Ambassador, David Francis, discussed this question with me. Trotsky had lived in the United States and knew our ways well. He could not understand, however, why the President kept these competing great men in Petrograd where they only created the impression of insistent confusion.

Apparently, we have had the same sort of thing in Cuba. The center of authority is lost in the encouragement of a number of diverse persons and agencies to get into the act. Each group of Cuban refugees in New York and Miami was dealing with some one else and the competition was so wild and open that Castro knew each secret even before it was born.

It is fortunate that the tractor business turned out to be a failure. Imagine, if it had succeeded, what Mao Tse-tung would have charged to free Americans he still holds prisoner!

M'Arthur's 'Sentimental Journey' Helps U.S.

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Of all the roving ambassadors who have gone abroad, none has produced so profound and useful an impression in behalf of the United States as has General Douglas MacArthur this week in the Philippines.

"A sentimental journey" is what the retired commander of America's armed forces in the Far East during World War II called his trip on the occasion of the fifteenth anniversary of Philippine Independence. The outpouring of millions of emotion-filled citizens of the Philippines proved that the ties between the two countries are stronger than ever. This was a tribute to America as well as to its "old soldier."

The example to the world is a significant one. For it was the United States which, over a period of years, helped to educate and train a whole generation of leaders for the new republic. No better illustration of how to deal with "colonialism" could be given in the modern world. It contrasts with the failure of various European nations to train their colonies in Africa for self-government. What a travesty on fair play that the United States, which liberated first Cuba and then the Philippines, should still be chastised as "Imperialistic" by certain orators and organs in Latin America!

General MacArthur's trip, therefore, is a timely reminder of the record of the United States, which sacrificed the lives of many of its soldiers to secure the freedom of both the Philippines and Cuba following the Spanish-American War in 1898.

General MacArthur's wise counsel and careful handling of the American occupation of Japan helped, moreover, to contribute to the setting up of a democratic government in Japan. It is too bad that his record was marred by the arbitrary recall from his entire command which he experienced at the hands of President Truman in 1951. Whatever differences there were about military policy in the Korean area, history will render the judgment that it might have been better to limit the recall of the general to the Korean command and not to have subjected him to the humiliation of a withdrawal also from Japan, where he had made such remarkable success in the postwar period. Certainly some way to prevent the tragedy that surrounded the event could have been found. But, unhappily, impulsive men in the White House make mistakes which they live to regret someday, though they do not always concede that they erred.

General MacArthur symbolizes today the heroism of millions of Americans who fought in two wars in the Far East — eight thousand miles from home. The wars in that region have proved that the United States will defend its interests in any quarter of the globe and that it will not follow concepts of isolationism. Indeed, the Spanish-American War also proved even six decades ago that American forces would go as far away as the Philippines to tackle an enemy.

General MacArthur's visit to the Philippines is not official. He doesn't represent the United States government there, although the journey has an official blessing and facilities of transportation were made available to him by our government.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

COALITION — House Minority Leader Rep. Charles A. Halleck, of Indiana, has maintained for years that the political coalition of conservative Republicans and Southern Democrats was a fiction dreamed up by the press. He has always claimed that the combined votes of these two factions, which has resulted in defeat after defeat for liberal legislators, was an accident, not a planned approach.

However, one of the members of that coalition in the Senate, Karl E. Mundt, R-S. D., has candidly admitted that it did, and does exist.

Mundt wrote in his newsletter, designed for consumption back home, that the coalition won "victory after victory from 1940 to 1960," but has been ineffective recently because of the Kennedy administration's use of patronage and political pressure. One Capitol Hill reporter impishly mailed a copy of the Mundt letter to Halleck, and plans to seek Mundt's comment the next time Halleck blasts the press for discussing that "fictional" coalition.

Hoarseness Is A Symptom, Not A Disease

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Hoarseness is a symptom, not a disease. It is a common aftermath of a cold that settles in the larynx and often follows screaming or yelling at an exciting football or baseball game. The manifestation also serves as a warning of more serious growths or tumors of the vocal cords. See your physician when hoarseness lasts more than three weeks. If a mild disease is responsible, the symptom usually disappears within a week or 10 days.

Several years ago a man entered my office and in a voice hardly louder than a whisper said, "This is it. I've always heard that anyone who is hoarse for more than a month has cancer." I explained that this was not necessarily true because there are other causes of chronic laryngitis, varying from a persistent infection to overusing the voice in crooning or auctioneering.

We stress cancer because a delay in its recognition and treatment is a costly error. This patient was relieved when told that the results of the examination showed no malignancy.

A physician examines the larynx with a mirror held against the back of the mouth, allowing him to see around the bend in the throat. The individual helps by holding out the tongue and panting like a dog on a hot day. When the cords come into view he says "cee" in a high voice, to spread apart the vocal cords. Some physicians spray the back of the throat with an anesthetic, especially when the patient is a gagger. If this procedure is not satisfactory, a special laryngoscope is passed for a better look.

As a rule, X-ray studies of the larynx are of no diagnostic value. But a group from Johns Hopkins recently perfected a method in which the larynx is coated with a contrast substance that outlines the vocal cords under the X-ray.

The patient is placed behind the fluoroscopic screen and the movements of the cords are noted. Tumors are outlined, revealing their full size. This method should help the surgeon to determine the treatment of choice when malignancy is present.

Most Protestant, Jewish Leaders
Oppose Federal Aid To Education

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Congressmen who have been debating the bitter, bogged-down question of aid to parochial vs. public schools have found that around 15 per cent of American school children go to private schools. Of these, by far the greatest number are Roman Catholic.

Enrollment in Catholic schools totals approximately 5,000,000, while that in Protestant and Jewish schools totals about 300,000. All would be entitled to government aid under the No. 2 aid-for-education bill which provides 40-year loans to build school buildings for the teaching of science, mathematics, foreign languages, and physical education — on the ground that these are beneficial to national defense.

However, the interesting fact is that a great majority of Protestant and Jewish educators not only oppose federal aid but have indicated strongly they will not accept it if offered.

The Lutherans operate the largest body of Protestant parochial schools, enrolling 173,174 students; most of them are under the conservative Lutheran body known as the Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod, headquarters in St. Louis, which conducts 1,307 parochial schools with an enrollment of 157,000.

This Lutheran board of parish education, in statements submitted to the Congressional committees on education March 26, said,

"The teaching program of our schools deals with character formation, motives of action, and principles of life which in a church school definitely promotes the tenets of the church which supports it.

"We believe it would be unwise for the government to grant such aid or for the church to accept it."

Dr. Philip A. Johnson of the National Lutheran Council, speaking for other Lutheran groups, warned of sectarian rivalry which public support for church schools might engender.

Breach Of Constitution

Second largest body of Protestant parochial schools is operated by the Seven-Day Adventists, who enroll a higher percentage of children of their members' families — 75 per cent — than any other denomination.

Speaking for this body with 1,065 parochial schools, the Religious Liberty Association, a division of the General Conference of Seventh-Day Adventists, said: "It is evident that any amendment that would extend federal aid to parochial schools would potentially benefit the Seventh Day Adventist Church.

"Were it to accept such benefits, millions of dollars that it now uses to subsidize its schools and millions of dollars paid by its members in tuition could be channeled into other lines of church endeavor.

"But neither their appreciation for the merits of parochial schools nor their financial investment in them diminishes the Seventh-Day Adventist Church's regard for the Constitution. To ask American citizens of other religions or of no religion to support by their tax dollars doctrinal teachings with which they do not agree would, in the opinion of Seventh-Day Adventists, be a very serious breach of Constitutional principles. Adventists oppose, therefore, any amendment to the federal-aid-to-education bill which would, in effect, grant a subsidy to parochial schools."

Among other Protestant groups which maintain private schools are Episcopalians, Quakers, Baptists, the Christian Reformed Church, Mennonites, and Amish. None of these bodies has indicated any desire for federal aid.

One Protestant school leader, Mr. Glen Andreas, a Pella, Iowa,

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

No group knows less about women than men. Still, one of the weaknesses of the male is that he fancies himself to be an expert in the matter of ladies. He is pugnacious, belligerent, awkward and fumbling and yet he is certain that the mere sight of him is enough to accelerate the feminine heart and send the pressure up to 200 over 150.

The current Good Housekeeping carries an article called How to Get Nowhere With a Man. It was written by Betty Jo Ramsey and consists of interviews with 10 well known males, each eager to tell the girls what is wrong with their approach.

Kirk Douglas, a movie star with a set of grim teeth, says: "The woman who tops you in everything is the one who is impossible to live with." I'll go along with that, although I would like to suggest that the woman who can top a man in everything will find him pretty impossible, too.

The next expert is that perennial bachelor, Senator Henry M. Jackson. The only ring any woman ever got from him was on a dial telephone. He says the one thing he doesn't like about the girls is perpetual tardiness. Again I agree, but if the distinguished gentleman from the State of Washington has experience along these lines, it is possible that the woman is trying, as gently as possible, to tell him to buzz off.

I'll skip Patrick Dennis because he's an author and that type is at its best only when it can invent the woman on a typewriter. A kid named Dwayne Hickman, who plays the part of someone named Dobie Gillis, says he can't stand it when he finds the girl's apartment is neat. "This," he says, "is phony. I'd rather have a comfortable looking place any time."

Of course, the trouble with boys is that they aren't men. If the apartment were sloppy, he'd be talking out of the other side of his mouth. Give me the neat, confident type any time. I'll get comfortable.

Hal March, who used to ask $64,000 questions, doesn't like the confident type. "She gives you this look that says: 'Are you going to go through life without trying me?'" he says. "My answer is usually 'Yes'." "I wonder what he means by 'usually.'" And where does this smug popinjay find women who send who sentences in one glance?

Jackie Gleason, another loser, is quite succinct. The worst thing a woman can do to a man, he feels, is "Not to be there when you want 'em, and to be there when you don't." This is about as close as the article gets to intelligence. It is also the ideal romantic situation for any man.

Sal Mineo, a kid who sings, says he can't stand "the woman who wears the slacks in the family." Hooray. Out of the mouths of babes — sometimes — comes wisdom. There is a colored cook at banker, and member of the conservative Calvinist branch of the Christian Reformed Church, is vice president of Citizens for Educational Freedom, an organization that has been lobbying in Congress not only for federal aid to parochial schools but for full support of such schools through the medium of "tuition grants" made to parents to be used as the parents desire. However, he has received little support from other Protestants.

The Lesson Of Holland

Mr. Andreas argues that the system used in the Netherlands where the government supports both Protestant and Catholic school should be used here. In Holland only a few public schools are in operation. But others point out that in the Netherlands this has resulted in a society where there are Catholic daily newspapers and Protestant; a Catholic political party, a Protestant party, and a violently anti-clerical Socialist Party; where there are Protestant department stores and Catholic stores; and where help-wanted advertisements often indicate the faith of the employer so that job-seekers of other faiths will not apply.

A number of conservative Orthodox and Jewish bodies maintain day schools. A few Orthodox "Yeshivas" would welcome government support, but the Orthodox body, Agudath Israel of America, which took a stand favoring federal aid was sharply answered by the American Jewish Congress and other major Jewish bodies. They warned of the divisiveness which government support of religious institutions might introduce into American life.

The Greek Orthodox Church and other Eastern Orthodox bodies are promoting establishment of parochial schools in major cities. So is the Byzantine Rite Catholic Church, which is related to the Roman Catholic Church, but uses the Ukrainian language and offers mass in the Slavonic tongue.

Thus, there is almost no end of parochial school systems which U.S. taxpayers could be called upon to support. One question debated by Congressmen is whether religious competition would not lead Protestants to change their present policy and accept aid—once it is extended to Catholic schools.

Thomas Pyne, of the Interstate Commerce Commission, has to rule on countless disputes arising from the adoption of daylight time in some sections of the country and the adherence to standard time in others.

Pyne tells of one rural minister who admitted that half his community demanded daylight time, while the other half rejected it with equal vehemence. "When should I open my church?" he asked Pyne. "Use your judgment," counseled Pyne. "I've already tried that," countered the minister, "and lost half my congregation."

A big fire in a mid-western brewery caused a temporary beer shortage in those parts, and every bar and grill had to go on a quota. The proprietor of one roadside retreat called to plead for an additional shipment "Toot Sweet." "It's an emergency," he declared. "But you've had your quota for the week," the brewery superintendent pointed out. "I know I have," answered the caller, "but what about my customers?"

HOLLYWOOD — Doris Day proved herself a real Yankee Doodle Dandy girl when, on very short notice, she received a request from the State Department to attend the Moscow Film Festival July 9—and when you read this, she will be winging to Russia.

I think this is a fine gesture on the part of Doris because it means a two-week postponement in starting her new picture "Touch of Mink" at Columbia.

The hurried invitation from Washington stated that her presence at the Moscow Festival would be deeply appreciated "as you represent the American image as it should be projected in foreign countries"—a nice tribute to our All-American star.

A bit of news from Mike Frankovich from London, who says he wants me to be the first to know that Lord Barbourne has teamed Alex Guinness and Dirk Bogarde for "The Mutineers." Says Mike, "They are Britain's biggest box office stars and they start work in Spain Aug. 14."

Do you remember Leonard Karzmar who produced the memorable "Tribute to Carl Sandburg" with a group of Hollywood personalities participating?

Well, Karzmar, who has been ill, is preparing to make a splash in film production with a picture based on the controversial best seller, "The Golden Scalpel." Karzmar reveals that he has acquired rights to the Seymour Kern novel described as a searching behind-the-scenes look at the modern medical profession.

With the final draft of her fourth book, "Antiques I have known" in her luggage, Corinne Griffith takes off for the east to turn it over to her publishers for fall publication. She asked me to go with her to the American Newspaperwoman's Club benefit party to be held in Washington, D.C., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert May. The honorary chairman is Mrs. John F. Kennedy and the proceeds go to a new club house. But I remember Washington in the summer—and it's hot!

Due to a slight slip of my type-writer, which is about as much of a mistake I intend to admit, I printed earlier this week that David McLean is in Frank Sinatra's "Soldiers 3." He's actually in another picture produced by Frank's company, "X-15."

But when Mr. Sinatra read where I had planted the good-looking David in "Soldiers 3" he said, "well, we can't make a liar out of Louella." So when the company started shooting at the Goldwyn Studio Wednesday morning, David stepped before the cameras in the role of a cavalry officer.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

There was a nice surprise awaiting Paul Newman when he arrived back in town Wednesday morning from the Philippines where he and Shirley MacLaine went for Independence Day. Joanne Woodward had already moved into the Tyne Power house which she and Paul bought some time ago.

Before taking the plane to Mexico City Merle Oberon Pagliai and Lee Anderson had dinner at Tally Ho Restaurant. They were escorted by Cesar Romero. Lee will be Merle's house guest in Mexico.

A card from Jayne Mansfield from Budapest came as a surprise. She says she's having a family reunion with all of Mickey Hargitay's relatives. I didn't know Americans could go into Hungary.

A postcard from Frankie Avalon from Santiago, Chile, says everything is going great and the teenagers love American Music.

Radio Harris, who is in our town, gave her mother a birthday party on the 4th of July. Hate to tell on Lottie but she looks so young I don't think it matters—she was 84 years old!

Young Brandon de Wilde will play Warren Beatty's younger brother in MGM's "All Fall Down." And by the way, I am sorry I gave the late James Agee credit for the authorship instead of James Leo Herlihy who wrote the best seller.

CBS-TV accepted with pleasure Jackie Gleason's offer to read the comics to the kids on Sundays from his home in Peekskill, N.Y., after he gets back from Paris. Some years ago the late Mayor La Guardia read the comics on Sunday mornings over radio when the newspapers were on strike.

July 26 has been set as the date Jean Simmons will have her baby by Caesarean section. Richard Brooks, the father, will presumably be busy directing "Sweet Bird of Youth" but he'll get off from work that day.

In pursuit of this plan he cashed the ace of hearts and the ace of clubs, taking his diamond discard. (Continued on Page 23)

The bidding perhaps calls for some stray comments. North's immediate jump shift is sound inasmuch as he has 20 points with a virtually solid suit of his own. South's postponement of mentioning the heart suit is good strategy. There will be plenty of time to show it and great preference should be given to the almost solid six card suit.

With no special fit for either of his partner's suits, North could do no more than return somewhat reluctantly to spades over four hearts but, when South scraped up

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My wife is expecting her first baby in about four months. She's 21, in excellent health and everything seems to be going along fine. The problem is her mother. She's scaring my wife to death with horror stories about labor pains and has just about talked her into having a Caesarian operation instead of a natural birth.

I haven't said anything yet but I'm ready to tell my mother-in-law to keep her mouth closed. Would I be justified? How can I undo the damage already done?

Please answer in your column.—
NO MAN'S LAND: Stop worrying. A Caesarian is a major operation and the doctor isn't going to agree to it unless there's a good medical reason.

Tip the doctor off so he can give your wife the reassurance she needs. The anesthetics available today, as well as the natural methods without use of anesthesia have made childbirth much easier. Your mother-in-law is a generation behind.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My next-door neighbor asked me if I knew my husband was driving a 20-year-old blonde to work every day. This girl lives in the next block and they work for the same company.

I told my neighbor that I knew and that I didn't see anything wrong with it. She said I was pretty dumb because Edgar was in his foolish fifties and men get a little cuckoo about that time.

That evening I went to the girl's home and in the presence of her parents I told her to find other transportation. They were shocked and asked me to leave.

When I told Edgar how rude they had been he almost killed me for going over there. He said I had humiliated him and that I was 100% wrong. It is wrong for a woman to protect her home?—
NO NAME

DEAR NO NAME: If you were unhappy about the blonde you should have discussed it with your husband, not the girl and her family.

Your gossip neighbor will be delighted to discover that she goaded you into making a jackass out of yourself. For your husband's sake (and your own), I hope you'll drop a note to the girl and apologize.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This letter is being written by five office girls. It's the sixth girl who needs advice but she doesn't know it.

Miss X started here four months ago. She wears satin, lace, mariou feathers and what have you to work. We think she must be shortening some one's old formal gowns. These creations were never intended for afternoon wear. Sometimes she wears mesh hose with backless slippers. The poor kid looks like she's headed for a costume party.

She's a very sweet girl from a small town and probably doesn't know better. Shall we form a committee and tell her? — WE MEAN WELL

DEAR MEAN WELL: This is a job that can be done best by the most tactful (and probably the oldest) girl in the office. It would be nice if that person offered to help her select some business-type clothes.

To learn the boobies-traps of teenage drinking, write for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Teen-age Drinking," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Former Romney Resident Is Appointed Wool Parity State Conservationist In West Virginia Payments Are Set At 47.6

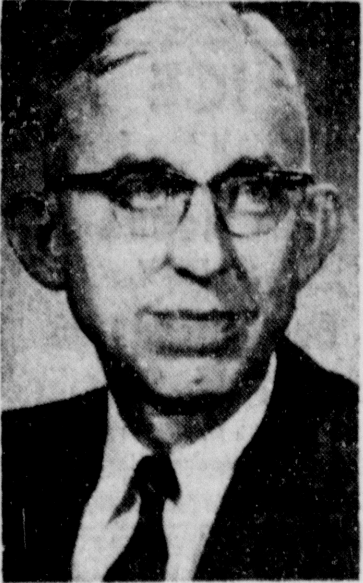

ROMNEY, W. Va.—J. P. Kuykendall of Morgantown has been named head of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service in West Virginia. His appointment as state conservationist was announced by D. A. Williams, administrator of the service in Washington. Mr. Kuykendall assumed his duties on July 1, with the retirement of L. L. Lough, who has directed the activities of the service in West Virginia for the past 23 years.

Mr. Kuykendall was born on a Hampshire County farm. He graduated from West Virginia University in 1933 with a B. S. degree in Agriculture. He received an M. S. degree in Public Administration from Colorado University in 1961.

Prior to his employment in 1934 by the Soil Erosion Service, he worked for the Romney Production Credit Association. His experience in soil and water conservation work started at the original Reedy Creek demonstration project in Roane and Wirt Counties. A tour of duty as project manager in the Marshall County area was followed by assignments at Clarksburg, Mar-

Kuykendall is a charter member of the Soil Conservation Society of America, a member of the board of directors of the Bank of Romney, and an Elder in the First Presbyterian Church of Morgantown.

Mr. and Mrs. Kuykendall and four children will continue to reside in Morgantown.

Area Sheepmen To Get Checks

KEYSER — Shorn wool payments for the 1960 marketing year will amount to 47.66 per cent of the dollar returns each producer received from the sale of shorn wool during the year, the Department of Agriculture has announced.

John S. Arnold Jr., chairman of the local Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, points out that this is the percentage necessary to bring average wool prices up to the previously announced incentive level of 62 cents per pound under the national wool program. It means that the producer will receive an incentive payment of $47.66 for every $100 received from the sale of shorn wool during the wool marketing year ended March 31, 1961.

The payment rate on sales of lambs that have never been shorn to compensate for the wool on them will be 80 cents per hundredweight of live animals sold. This payment is based on the shorn wool payment and is designed to discourage unusual shearing of lambs before marketing.

No payments will be made on mohair sold during the 1960 marketing year since the average mohair price of 89.7 cents per pound received by producers was above the mohair support price of 70 cents per pound.

According to the chairman, County ASCS offices will begin making payments soon after July 1. Applications for payment had to be filed by May 1. The payments will be made on shorn wool and unshorn lambs marketed from April 1, 1960 through March 31, 1961.

The incentive level for shorn wool for the current 1961 marketing year has also been announced at 62 cents per pound, the same as for each of the preceding years of the program. Program regulations continue the same as in earlier years.

Poultry Experts Invited To Moorefield Festival

MOOREFIELD, W. Va.—Some light will be shed on the subject of using light in the poultry house, during the 19th annual West Virginia Poultry Convention to be held here August 2-4, according to Harold M. Hyre, associate poultry scientist at West Virginia University and chairman of the publicity committee for the event.

DR. HOMER PATRICK

"It has been a known fact for many years that hens need a certain amount of light to perform at a maximum rate," Hyre explained. "It also has been established that light shining through the eye of a hen causes the pituitary gland to secrete a hormone that stimulates egg production. In recent years, however, some additional experimental work has been done which indicates that better results may be had by the proper use of light. Dr. W. C. Skogland, chairman of the Poultry Science Department at the University of New Hampshire, and Dr. Homer Patrick, chairman of the Department of Poultry Science at West Virginia University, who will be two of the principal speakers at the West Virginia Poultry Convention, will reveal some of the latest findings concerning the use of light for chickens.

Dr. Skogland's subject will be "The Use of Lights in the Poultry House"; it will include requirements, sources, and management—"stimulate." Dr. Patrick's talk will include such topics as solar energy, biological stimulation, color effects, and West Virginia's geographical position.

Other subjects to be discussed at the convention include turkeys, the use of poultry and eggs in the diet, and automation. "This is undoubtedly the most unusual poultry convention held anywhere in the United States," Hyre cited. "The people of Moorefield really put out the welcome mat and the whole town gets into the act. All the shop windows are decorated, a poultry parade with floats and bands is staged, and a beauty pageant is held to select a poultry queen.

"Moorefield is located in the South Branch Valley, one of the beauty spots of the East. This is the place for West Virginia poultrymen and their wives to take a short vacation and to mix a little pleasure with business. In addition to the festival, there also will be a top-notch educational program which will feature nationally-known industry leaders," Hyre concluded.

Missing Girl Is Located Unharmed

KINGWOOD, W. Va. — A 16-year-old deafmute, who wandered away from her eastern Preston County home on the Fourth of July, was located in a heavily-wooded area near her home about 3 p. m. Wednesday.

Sheriff Ralph Brown said Joyce Shaffer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Shaffer, of Corinth, was suffering from shock and exposure when located. A brother of the young girl, Roderick Shaffer, 29, was a member of the party that first sighted her wandering about some three-quarters of a mile from her home.

Sheriff Brown said Mr. and Mrs. Shaffer did not miss their daughter for some time and then searched the area for several hours before contacting authorities.

A 13-hour search followed, the sheriff said adding that about 60 men participated in the effort. The girl was badly scratched and was numb and cold when located.

Participating in the search were State Police, members of the Terra Alta Volunteer Fire Department, Army reservists and National Guardsmen.

Two other Western Maryland entries finished among the first 10 entries opening day. Lindsay Gonder was eighth with 83 and Jim Goebel shot 84 for ninth.

Yanks' Bill Stafford Shuts Out Tribe, 4-0

Fires 2-Hitter,
Elston Howard
Hits Two Homers

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bill Stafford fired a two-hitter against the Cleveland Indians and Elston Howard hit two home runs Thursday night to give the New York Yankees a 4-0 victory that kept them within a half game of the pace-setting Detroit Tigers.

The 22-year-old Stafford faced only 28 batters in extending the Tribe's scoreless string to 23 innings. Stafford threw only 98 pitches, striking out three and walking none as he posted his seventh victory against four defeats.

Willie Kirkland's ground rule double in the second inning and Mike De La Hoz's single off third baseman Cletis Boyer's glove in the ninth were the only hits off Stafford. Left fielder Bob Cerv had a chance to grab Kirkland's towering double but shied away from the ball, thinking it might land in the boxes along the left field foul line.

The crowd boomed when De La Hoz was given a hit in the ninth, feeling that Boyer should have been charged with an error instead. The Yankee third baseman knocked down the ball and recovered it in time to make a

Chuck McKinley Is 2-1 Underdog In Title Match

Rod Laver Foe
At Wimbledon

By GEOFFREY MILLER

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—London bookies have made Charles Chuck McKinley, 20-year-old tennis star from St. Louis, a 2-1 underdog in Friday's Wimbledon tournament final against Rod (The Rocket) Laver of Australia.

Such odds would not have been offered two weeks ago. But the rumbunctious, fair-haired American has become the No. 1 personality of the tournament by his incredible energy and breakneck speed around the court.

Laver Is Favorite

Laver, beaten finalist for the last two years, remains favorite to win the title in his third attempt. He lost to Neale Fraser of Australia last year and to Alex Olmedo of Peru in 1959.

McKinley aims at becoming the first native-born American to win the Wimbledon men's crown since Tony Trabert did it in 1955. If he pulls it off, he will be the youngest Wimbledon champion for 30 years.

McKinley, knocked out of the men's doubles event with his partner, Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., had no matches Thursday. He relaxed and watched the two semifinals of the women's singles.

Britons In Finals

Two British girls made the final—for the first time in living memory.

Christine Truman downed Renee Schuurman of South Africa 6-4, 6-4. Angela Mortimer upset the other South African star, Sandra Reynolds, top-seed and last year's defeated finalist, 10-9, 6-3.

STEVIE SHEETS fired the third strike past 14 batsmen and yielded one hit, a ground rule double by R. Whitacre in the third inning, as the Columbia Street Wildcats whipped Short Gap yesterday by the score of 12-1 in a Maryland West Virginia Little League game at County Field.

Sheets also aided his cause with a three-run homer in the first inning and Steve Crawford hit a round-tripper with two mates aboard in the fourth.

The win gave the league leaders a 5-0 record and boosted their edge to 1½ games over second place Fort Ashby (4-2). Score: Short Gap . . . 001 000—1 4 4

Johnny Keane Replaces Hemus As Cardinals Manager

St. Louis Slump Brings Pilot Change

Red Schoendienst To Coach; Benson Added To Staff

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Solly Hemus was fired Thursday as manager of the slumping St. Louis Cardinals and replaced by his No. 1 aide, Johnny Keane.

Hemus, 37, said he had no plans for a new job. Keane, 50, has been in the Cardinal system for 20 years as minor league manager and coach.

The Cardinals, who finished third last year, have been second division fixtures this year and were 14½ games off the pace when General Manager Bing Devine made the announcement at a news conference.

"We feel a change is called for before an extended losing pattern becomes fixed," Devine said.

Said Hemus: "If you don't win, you don't stay. I have no hard feelings. It's just the way baseball is. I have no baseball job in sight, but I would like to return to managing."

Said Keane: "The way we've been losing makes it apparent that we have a morale problem. But it's not serious, nothing that winning a few games won't cure. I'm going to bring a few older players back into the lineup for a few nights to take the pressure off the youngsters."

The Cardinals also made veteran second baseman Red Schoendienst a coach as well as player, and added Vern Benson to the coaching staff. Benson, manager of the Cards' Portland, Ore., Pacific Coast League club, replaces Darrell Johnson, who will be re-assigned.

Hemus was the first National League manager to get the axe this season. Two American League pilots have been fired: Joe Gordon at Kansas City and Cookie Lavagetto at Minneapolis.

Bill Murray, Duke football coach, began his coaching career at the Winston-Salem Children's Home.

IN MANAGERIAL CHANGE—Solly Hemus, 37, right, who piloted the St. Louis Cardinals to a surprising third place finish in the National League last year, yesterday was released as manager of the club. Veteran coach Johnny Keane, left, was named manager for the rest of the 1961 season and for 1962.

Pirates Lose, 5-1, After 15-3 Victory

CHICAGO (AP) — Roberto Clemente, climbing to within five percentage points of taking the National League batting lead, Thursday fused a 20-hit Pittsburgh assault that routed the Chicago Cubs 15-3, but the Pirates were cooled off 5-1 in the nightcap on Glen Hobbie's seven-hit.

Clemente, starting right fielder in next week's All-Star game, slammed three singles, a double and a two-run homer—his 12th—in five official trips in the opener, accounting for five runs.

He made a pair of singles in four at-bats in the second game, giving him seven for nine for the day and boosting his average to .351.

The Cubs' George Altman maintained his lead with .356. In the first game he got a double and a single in four trips and the same

Dick Stuart, with four straight hits, accounted for two runs in the Pirates' first-game explosion and pairs of RBI's also were made by Johnny Logan and Hal Smith.

Bob Friend, going the distance for the second time since blanking the Cubs 2-0 April 19, got his 9th victory against as many losses.

Hobbie struck out eight batters in setting down the Cubs in the afterpiece to make his record 6-9.

Angels Outslug Minnesota, 12-11

Pearson's Single Plates Winning Run

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Little Albie Pearson plated the winning run with a base hit Thursday and Art Fowler shut the door on Minnesota as the Los Angeles Angels outslugged the Twins 12-11.

The victory put the Angels into eighth place, a half game ahead of the Twins, and extended their winning streak to six games.

Pearson's hit came after two walks in the ninth inning and gave Fowler his second victory in two decisions. Fowler retired the last six men in order.

A two-run homer by Lenny Green gave the Twins a 11-8 lead in the fifth inning, but pinchhitter Leroy Thomas countered with a three-run blast to tie the game in the eighth.

Camilo Pascual, the fourth Twins' pitcher, took his 11th loss in 17 decisions.

Bengals Top Boston, 3-0

Regan, Fox Keep Detroit In First

BOSTON (UPI)—Phil Regan and Terry Fox shut out the Boston Red Sox, 3-0, as the Detroit Tigers maintained their slim American League lead.

Regan, winning his eighth game against four losses, needed one out help from Fox when the Red Sox put two men on base in the ninth inning. The Tigers collected eight hits off rookies Galen Cisco and Arnold Early, scoring single runs in the first, fifth and sixth innings.

Four of the eight hits by Boston were by Pete Runnels who had a perfect day at the plate with four consecutive singles. Al Kaline had a double and two singles for the Tigers, who took the series from Boston, two games to one.

The Tigers scored their first run in the opening when Dick McAuliffe reached on a fielder's choice, went to third on Kaline's single to center field and scored on Rocky Colavito's sacrifice fly to right.

Regan's double and Billy Bruns' ground rule double that bounced into the Red Sox bullpen in right center field gave the Tigers a 2-0 lead in the fifth inning.

The last Detroit tally came in the sixth. Kaline singled, moved to third on Norm Cash's second hit of the game, and scored when Steve Boros hit back to Boston starter Galen Cisco, who threw to second in a fruitless bid for a double play.

Decision Nine Case Goes To Appeals Court

BALTIMORE (AP)—The case of Decision Nine, a 4-year-old mare, will trot to the Maryland Court of Appeals.

Ernest C. Rogers Sr. said Thursday he will carry on his fight to retain ownership of the horse.

A jury had ruled that the horse must be returned to its original owner, Miss Crystelle Waggoner of Decatur, Texas. Circuit Judge James E. Boydland Jr. refused Wednesday to grant another trial. Miss Waggoner ordered the thoroughbred destroyed after he was injured at Pimlico race track in 1959. The execution wasn't carried out and Rogers bought the horse for $250 last year.

Upon learning that it was a thoroughbred, Rogers wrote Miss Waggoner asking for the registration papers. Instead, Miss Waggoner filed suit to reclaim the horse she thought had been killed. Rogers had renamed the horse Lady Red Coat.

Kiwanis, Lions Score Hot Stove Victories

Stitcher Hurls One-Hitter In Penn Avenue Tilt

Tommy Stitcher tossed a one-hitter to outpitch Dave Price in a tense hurling duel last night as Kiwanis defeated Elks, 2-0, in a Hot Stove League encounter at Penn Avenue.

Stitcher whiffed 15 and walked only two as he blanked the Elks on one safety, a leadoff single by Jim Joyce in the seventh inning. Dave Price, the loser, pitched well enough to win most games, allowing only four hits, striking out 17 and walking two.

Kiwanis scored in the third inning when with one out Dave Bruce walked and went to second on Ed Piper's bunt single. Both runners advanced on a passed ball and came home on Gary Ball's line single to left.

Piper obtained two of the winners' four hits, both bunt singles. The win was the fourth in 10 games for Manager Bert Lawler's Kiwanis nine while the Elks suffered their second straight loss and sixth in 13 decisions this season.

In another Hot Stove League game yesterday the Lions handed winless Salvation Army its 12th straight setback, a 7-2 decision at Mason Road. The triumph was the fifth in 12 games for the Lions.

Billy Van Ormer picked up his third mound triumph for the Lions with an assist from Don Wagoner. Van Ormer whiffed eight in five innings while Wagoner fanned five in his two-inning stint on the mound. Bill Deffenbaugh was the loser, his fourth defeat without a win for Salvation Army.

The Lions broke a 2-2 deadlock with a run in the fifth and then broke the game open with four more tallies in the sixth, although held to seven singles by Deffenbaugh.

Johnny Robinson, leadoff man for the Lions, walked four times

Two Projects Will Increase Water Supply
WESTERNPORT-Noah Wright, Nick Lupis, Richard Stakem and John Springer, residents of the Green's Addition area, appeared before Mayor Ray L. Wilt and Town Council last night Wednesday relative of shortage of water in that area.
The water shortage in that area has been very acute the past several days, water Commissioner Robert Kalbaugh stated, but is better now. He reported there were 10 feet of water in the storage tank adjacent to Bruce High School Wednesday morning compared to Saturday's two feet.
A six-inch water line being laid from the intersection of Main-Oakview Drive over the hill to the Trinity Methodist Church parsonage Philos Avenue. He said that when it is completed, it should help the water shortage in that area.
A pump is also planned in the vicinity of the Boy Scout hall on Philos Avenue. It is expected to pump 150 gallon per minute.
Mayor Wilt announced that the sanitary sewer back of Jake Wilson's place to take care of sewage from the Green's Addition area had cost $38,842.56. Forty per cent, or $15,537.02 will be paid by the government making the cost to the town $23,305.54.
All of the curbs of the community will be inspected. Property owners will be requested to make needed repairs.
Mrs. Peggy Shaw and Mrs. Fanny Grove, local policemen, were appointed to make the inspection.

Woman To Woman
By PATRICIA MCCORMACK
NEW YORK (UPI) - So you swat male mosquitoes along with the females.
Such a waste of effort.
It's a buggy fact that only the females sting. The males, if seems, are content to let the females of the species do the dirty work.
Either they're lazy or professional pacifists.
Now for this information we're indebted to Diana Symington and Sherrylyn Patecell - mosquito maids who just completed a tour of 11 cities in the interest of stamping out the mosquito problem.
Miss Symington, 21, is a medical student. Miss Patecell, 20, is a political science major at Skidmore College.
Now if it hurts your conscience to swat peace-loving male mosquitoes along with the human-fighting female ones, how can you tell one from the other?
"Well," said Miss Symington, "It's not easy for the layman. It's rather complicated, in fact. If the females are typical of human females, one might say they make more noise when flitting about."
"If that were true, perhaps you ought to listen before swatting. But I'm not sure it's a scientific fact. I'm just using woman's intuition."
During their tour, the mosquito maids spoke about bug-free cook-outs.
For a bug-free cook-out, the mosquito maids suggested:
-Plan ahead and keep it simple. Cook only the main meat course out of doors.
-Decorate with insects on the brain. Use bug lanterns around the edge of the eating area.
-Eat, cook, drink in three different places. That makes the insects scatter their forces.
-Spray before you serve the food-say 15 minutes ahead.
-Blow the bugs away with electric fan near the barbecue table.

Doctors Will Decide Future Of Vernon Law
Hints At Quitting If Injury Serious
By DICK FONTANA
PITTSBURGH (UPI) - Right-hander Vernon Law said Thursday night he may quit baseball if the injury to his arm is as serious as the one which he suffered at the start of his career.
"I had an injury back in 1951 which I feel is the same thing," Law told United Press International. "It bothered me all through the season, then I went into the service for two years. I couldn't pitch at all there," the Pirate pitching ace said.
He said if the present injury is as serious, "I might as well forget baseball."
Law will be examined Friday by doctors Albert Ferguson Jr. and Joseph Finegold, team physician. Their findings will decide whether Law will:
-Be placed on the 30-day disabled list.
-Be out for the season.
-Be out indefinitely.
-Or be restored to active duty.
Law hurt his arm originally on April 29 while pitching against the Cincinnati Reds.
He made his first start since July 11 last Sunday against the San Francisco Giants. He was treated in the meantime with cortisone for what was called a tear in the rotator muscle of his right shoulder.
"The cortisone evidently didn't do much good," Law remarked. "Maybe the warm weather will help if I come out all right Friday."
Law said if the examination turns out negative he definitely will go on the disabled list.

The Senators got their run across in the seventh inning off Hoyt Wilhelm on back-to-back doubles by Willie Tasby and Dale Long.

Water Policy Of City May Become Official

Council Action Expected Monday

The policy of the Water Department concerning the sale of water to areas which might some day become part of the city may become official policy of the City of Cumberland on Monday.

It was agreed, at a special meeting of the Mayor and Council last night, that an ordinance embodying the policy be prepared for submission at Monday's Council meeting.

The area which would be included is bounded generally on the east by Evitts Creek, on the south by the Potomac River, on the north by the present city limits and on the west by a point about 2,000 feet west of the present city line.

File For Annexation

The Water Department policy calls for a customer in these contiguous areas to agree, before getting a tap, that he will file a petition for annexation and that if the area is not taken in within the period, the customer will make whatever arrangements are needed to get water from some other source.

The water supply to such areas was discussed at length during a spirited meeting.

Mayor J. Edwin Keech said the contract will "protect us" for possible annexation, and that any other course would tie the hands of the planner the city will hire.

He said that if the areas near the city are supplied with city facilities, they would have no incentive to come into the city, if such action were proposed by the city planner.

Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore Fleming said he thought the proposal was a good one, and that the city should go ahead. He suggested that an order be passed Monday after saying he is "100 per cent for."

Mayor Keech seconded the suggestion, saying it would be "a protection to us."

The plan to formalize the department policy came after Finance Commissioner Lucile Rice.

County Gets $407,294 In Income Distribution

Allegany County ranked sixth among the 23 counties in the state in the distribution of income tax revenue to the subdivisions of Maryland during the fiscal year which ended June 30.

Louis L. Goldstein, state comptroller, said the total amount distributed for the past fiscal year was $19,503,578.30, compared with $18,437,436.40 distributed during the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1960.

Allegany County's share of this year's total amounted to $407,294.15. Of this amount, $249,672.27 went to the county commissioners and $157,621.88 went to the various municipalities and taxing areas.

County's Share

A breakdown on the various amounts which each municipality received is as follows:

Barton — $1,916.35; Cresaptown — $2,073.53; Cumberland — $93,249.67; Frostburg — $17,005.58; LaVale Sanitary Commission — $18,693.40; Lonaconing — $5,070.55; Luke — $2,793.70; Midland — $1,391.52; Mt. Savage Taxing District — $3,601.31; Potomac Park Addition — $846.24; Westport — $10,980.03.

Under the present formula of distribution, the subdivisions receive 1.7 per cent of all investment income and 68 per cent of all ordinary income. When the taxpayer resides within an incorporated city, town or taxing area, within a county, the distribution is equally divided between the county and such incorporated city, town or taxing area.

The distribution is computed by tabulating the tax paid by the residents of each of the 185 subdivisions of the state.

Garrett County ranked last among the 23 counties and received $36,661.05. Of the total amount received, $28,020.08 was allocated to the county commissioners and the remaining $8,640.97 was divided among eight towns.

Oakland Figure

Shippers Back Rail Merger Proposition

C&O Control Gains Support

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad Co., bidding for control of the Baltimore & Ohio system, Thursday brought a parade of major freight shippers to endorse a proposed C&O-B&O affiliation.

All those offered as witnesses before a hearing examiner for the Interstate Commerce Commission spoke in glowing terms of expected improved rail service. Some expressed the hope that lower freight rates might result.

Attorneys for the New York Central, which also seeks to control the B&O, asked most of the shippers for their reaction to Central's proposal for a three-way combine which would include Central—an idea which C&O and B&O are resisting.

Some declined to express an opinion, others said the idea needed more study, still others said it might be something for the future, but not now.

Ernest E. Allison of Lancaster, Ohio, traffic director for the Anchor Hocking Glass Corp., answered the question by asserting: "Our position here now is to endorse the proposal of C&O because that proposal has been approved by both the C&O and B&O stockholders."

Blood Need In Summer Is Cited

Mobile Unit Here Monday

The need for blood donors during the summer months as well as other months of the year and the hope that the quota for blood donors will be met at Monday's visit of the Johnstown bloodmobile unit, was stressed at a meeting yesterday of chairmen of three area branches of American Red Cross, according to Mrs. Sara G. Lindsay.

Members of the branches which participate in the blood program met at the Allegany County Chapter offices in the Post Office building. Mrs. Lindsay is chapter executive secretary.

Attending were Mrs. Harry Beneman, blood chairman; Mrs. Hammond Amick, canteen chairman; Mrs. John Lohnas, recruitment chairman; Mrs. Russell Armbruster, chairman of nursing service for the blood program; Mrs. Paul Cueva, Westport blood chairman; Miss Eleanor Sloan, Lonaconing branch chairman; Miss Edith Darnley, and Mrs. Lindsay, Allegany County chapter.

Discuss Program

The purpose of the meeting was to discuss the overall blood program as administered in Allegany County.

A report was given of a recent meeting in Johnstown for all executive secretaries of chapters participating in the Johnstown Regional Blood program.

A discussion was held on operation of the canteens, recruitment of donors both for blood bank and hospital emergencies; and research being done by National Red Cross, including its experiment at the present time with the

Carver School Inspected As College Site

Webster Meets With Education Official

An inspection of the old Carver School on Frederick Street which will be converted into a local community college was made yesterday by Dr. Harold D. Reese, supervisor of teacher training and higher education in the State Department of Education.

He was accompanied by Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of public schools in Allegany County, who said Dr. Reese voiced the opinion he "thinks it has tremendous possibilities."

Discuss Staff

The two school officials discussed the staffing of the new college and also things which will have to be accomplished prior to its opening which will be expedited.

Mr. Webster pointed out that the target date for the opening will depend on the employment of key personnel.

They would include a director or dean of instructions; registrar; counselor and librarian.

Dr. Reese's knowledge of the need for higher education in the county goes back to the days when he was a member of the faculty at Frostburg State Teachers College.

In October 1957 he completed his "Study of the Desirability of Planning Public Education Beyond High School in Allegany County."

Legislation Adopted

This year the General Assembly adopted legislation to finance community colleges in Maryland. It provides a three-way split for financing such colleges—one-third by the state, one-third by the county and one-third by the student.

The community college here got the unanimous approval of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners on June 13.

At least 10 areas in Maryland including Cumberland shape up as sites for new colleges.

The two-year colleges are designed to serve students within a 25-mile radius and their potential is based on high school enrollment in the area.

McRobie, who had lived in Washington the past six months, resided at 508 East Capital Street. His parents were visiting his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry McRobie, Oakland, at the time of the accident.

Besides his parents, who now reside in Fort Worth, Texas, and his grandparents, he is survived by two sisters, Loretta and Kathy McRobie, Fort Worth.

The body will be brought to the Leighton Funeral Home today. Services will be conducted there Sunday at 2 p. m. and interment will be in Bayard (W. Va.) Cemetery.

REV. AUGUST W. PETERS JR.

New Deacon Is Assigned To Emmanuel

Catonsville Man To Assume Duties

Rev. August W. Peters Jr., of Catonsville, who was ordained to the Order of Deacons last night in the Cathedral Church of the Incarnation in Baltimore, has been assigned as assistant to the rector of Emmanuel Episcopal Church here.

Under the direction of Rev. H. M. Richardson, rector, Rev. Mr. Peters will work with the church school, the young people will do parish visitation and assist in the conduct of worship. As deacon his duties are more limited than a priest. For instance he has only a limited function in the celebration of the Holy Communion. However, he will be able to assist those who need the services of a clergyman in many ways.

Jury Awards $18,000 In Condemnation

Another Case Starts Today

An Allegany County Circuit Court petit jury yesterday afternoon awarded $18,000 to the defendants in a condemnation suit involving property in the Belle Grove section of U. S. Route 40. The State Roads Commission brought the land condemnation suit against Howard M. and Olive G. Creek, his wife, in connection with property needed for the improvement of the highway.

A check for $13,850, which the SRC offered for the property, had been deposited with Joseph E. Boden, clerk of the Circuit Court.

Visit Site

Yesterday afternoon the petit jurors including one woman and 11 men got the case at 3:55 p. m. after hearing testimony during the afternoon. They were taken to the site in the morning.

They deliberated 15 minutes before reaching their verdict. Jury foreman was Harry L. Cornelius Jr.

The property involved includes a 21-room dwelling and other out buildings. The Creeks had owned the property since 1956. It was formerly the Dr. John A. Watson home and property located about 30 miles east of Cumberland.

Mrs. Creek testified that rooms in the dwelling had been rented to a game warden and state trooper in past years and also to hunters during hunting season.

The Creeks realized the SRC was planning to seek the land for future road work and they mortgaged the home for $14,000 in order to construct another home in which to live.

Appraise Property

Howard M. Spiker, local real estate broker, took the stand and told the jurors that he had appraised the property as did James E. Perrin, local realtor. Mr. Spiker appraised the property and buildings at $17,879 which did not include the shrubbery and trees.

Earlier in the afternoon Mr. Perrin took the stand and gave his appraisal figures on behalf of the defendants.

D. Clifford Goodfellow, realtor, appraised the property on behalf of the SRC and valued it at $14,373.60.

Paul C. Mann, a forester for many years, and now affiliated with the State Fish and Game Commission also testified yesterday during the trial presided over by Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris. Mr. Creek did not appear in.
